

THE EDITOR
SAYS—

May 25, 26, and 27 gives promise of being Red Letter Days for Sikeston. The Southeast Missouri Drummers hold their convention in this city on those dates. Good Will delegations from St. Louis, Memphis, Poplar Bluff, Cairo, and other points will visit with us Friday, the 26th. If the weather permits, we have reason to believe record crowds will be here to enjoy the occasion. Each one of us should be a committee to welcome the visitors that they may return to their homes pleased with their entertainment while our guests.

It is strictly against the law to fire a gun within the city limits; it is strictly against the law to kill song birds. Several boys in this city own 22 calibre rifles and have been shooting at birds and killing some. And, again, somebody is likely to be badly hurt by this promiscuous shooting. Parents should wrap these rifles around a tree, or be prepared to pay a fine for sonny, or, perhaps a surgeon's bill.

The editor was among a number of white people who attended the fair at the colored school in Sunset Addition Tuesday forenoon, and enjoyed the program very much. Nine of the ten colored schools of Scott County were represented and the handicraft of both boys and girls was an agreeable surprise, especially were the pretty dresses, made, worn and modeled by the girls. We are giving considerable space to our colored folks this time and are glad of the opportunity to do so, for the line of education now being given them makes them useful citizens in any community. We were mighty proud of a silk handkerchief with our initial embroidered in the corner, presented by the Sikeston school.

It has come to our attention that some talk of garnishing wages of employees of the shoe factory for accounts past due. This would be unfortunate to say the least. These people have worked little for the past two months and have to eat. It has been a hard matter to procure the absolute necessities of life without a chance to pay rent, pay installments, or pay anything else, so for goodness sake, have a heart and do not further embarrass factory workers who would pay if they could. Give them a chance. Every merchant and every landlord in Sikeston knows how little money these folks have received in the past two months or longer. Use the Golden Rule of common sense.

The Standard is called upon to say what to do about Beauty Shop operators who do not pay license to operate. This is a question for the city officials to decide. If they do not pay, as others, they should not be permitted to operate.

Personally, we feel much disappointed that the school board refused permission to use the High School gymnasium for an evening entertainment of our guests. It is the only suitable building in the city for such an affair and the building would still stand. The committee in charge of entertainment will be hard put to finance their program when this source of revenue is cut off. Being the Center of Creation in Southeast Missouri, Sikeston must have an auditorium in which to entertain conventions who visit our city.

The local editor of the Kennett Democrat tells his readers in a two column article of his meeting up with "the law" in St. Louis County as he was passing through a spot by the road side known as South Afton. It cost him $8.20 for court costs. No fine.

From advertisements carried in papers and magazines, Lifebuoy Soap has been the greatest blessing of the day toward bringing together sweethearts who were a little distant at the start. It was all caused by "b. o."

A wag has suggested that perhaps the street dance of last Saturday night was sponsored by the International Shoe Co. in order to wear out the shoes of those participating. Not a bad idea at that.

If for no other reason International Shoe Day was a wonderful thing for Sikeston and trade territory, it caused folks to forget their troubles for the time being. It has been such a long time since there was a place where all could meet on an equal footing that this occasion brought out everybody to have one day of recreation at practically no cost. We trust it will bring ample returns to all who sponsored the big day.

While we have been called upon to help regulate about everything in the city, the latest is to inquire if private boarding houses have paid license to cater to transients as well as local patrons. We on't know. See the City Attorney.

BILLY TERRELL'S SHOW
DRAWING GOOD CROWDS

Billy Terrell's Stock Company and Girl Revue, which has been showing here this week under the auspices of the American Legion, has been drawing good crowds. Friday and Saturday nights are their feature nights and after the regular show Saturday night, there will be a 11 o'clock or midnight show which is the feature event of the week.

The Popular Bluff Mardi Gras May 20

The Poplar Bluff Mardi Gras on May 20 will attract the largest crowd in the history of Poplar Bluff, according to Guy Cahill, general chairman of the association sponsoring this program. A parade of floats, decorated automobiles, clowns, a green dragon and several bands are scheduled to start the day's program at 10 a. m. At that time, in line with a proclamation by Mayor W. A. Sanner, whistles of all mills in the city will be blown designating the opening of the festivities. The program will include activities by the booster clubs of Missouri, Illinois and Memphis divisions of the Missouri Pacific Railroad Company. It is predicted that 2000 railroad employees will be there. "I want to offer our visiting neighbors every felicitation and assurance of co-operation and fraternal feeling," said Mayor Sanner. "Every courtesy from my office and those operating under it will be extended to visiting persons and every effort will be made for their comfort." Band concerts, aquatic sports on Black River and numerous other events make up the afternoon program. A free street dance with an amplifying device sufficient to carry the music for two blocks, will be arranged on a Frisco flat car, where the orchestra will be stationed. Additional attractions are planned.

Scott County Mill Co. Goodrich Tire Dealer

Announcement is made by Scott County Mill Co., Sikeston, that it has become a dealer for the nationally known line of tires and tubes manufactured by the B. F. Goodrich Company, Akron, Ohio. It will feature as part of its service to customers the famous Goodrich Safety Silvertown and the Goodrich Cavalier, two tires which have won their reputations for safety and service by usage on millions of American automobiles. Goodrich, now in its 63rd year of existence, has for many years maintained the highest standards of safety in tire construction. Its latest contribution to the war against highway accidents is an announcement of the new Golden Ply

SCOTT WORK ARMY ABOUT ENLISTED

Thursday representatives of the State emergency relief committee were in Benton conferring with Alden Pinney, county chairman, and the quotas for the various communities in the manner of registrants for the reforestation were worked out. The proposition of selecting these fifty-one men were shifted from the county chairman and committee to local groups, which means that the men who go from the various points in Scott county will have been chosen by men from their own towns and vicinities, men who know their home conditions and men who know the circumstances. Previous to this new arrangement local men were asked for recommendations, so that the results are practically the same as formerly. However, the local committees are the ones who really should do this selecting. Kelso, New Hamburg, Dehlstadt and Benton did not enter into the choice of men and their quotas, while very small, were added to those for communities that had greater needs. The new plan puts up the selection of the men to the following: Chaffee, Mayor Heyman and advisory group; Fornfelt, Dr. G. S. Cannon and Fred Gardner; Ilmo, Fred Craig and J. A. Gearing; Commerce, Hugh Blackledge and H. M. Zaricor; Morley, C. D. M. Guyton and Tom Lett; Blodgett, Roy Green and Dell Swinney; Vanduser, R. M. Armstrong and W. B. Smith; Oran, F. C. Miller and Z. A. Heiser; Skeston, Sayers Tanner F. E. Mount and Morse Lynn, Mr. Mount being County Red Cross chairman; Perkins, R. C. Willett and L. E. Moore. In each of these communities the chairman and secretary had local committees. The forest army from Scott County is just about ready for certification to State headquarters in Jefferson City and the sending of these fifty-two men means that around $1300 a month will come back to the dependents at home. This will relieve the situation in all of the communities represented. At least $25 of each man's salary will come back to Scott county. Just as soon as all papers are returned to the county office in Benton, the certificate of the chairman will be affixed and these requisition papers will be sent back to the local chairman. When the call comes, the men will be notified to appear for the white sheets, which are their admittance permits to the examination. All men MUST have their white sheets in order to get into the centralization points, where the physical tests will be made. From there the men will be sent to their work and their pay starts immediately. In the event of rejections, men will be held in reserve to make up the county's quota. Mr. Pinney will instruct the men where to go and when—Benton Democrat.

SPECIALTY MEN PRAISE SIKESTON

There were six special factory representatives engaged in demonstrating their products at the Fair Company Store Saturday. At the finish they were of one accord in saying the crowd was the largest they had ever witnessed in a city of this size. Warren Lammert of the Lammert Furniture Company, St. Louis, in commenting on it, said: "Think of nearly sixteen thousand people passing through this store in one day with no accidents, no complaints and everyone seeming to be in a happy frame of mind. If I had not been present and seen the amazing crowd with my own eyes, I would have scarcely believed it could be true." The irrepressible Scotty Whyte, also of The Lammert Company, was on his mettle the whole day long—in fact, Scotty is always that way. While handing out Lammert souvenirs, he made his own private estimate of the congregation which ran something like this: "Of the sixteen thousand who came, there were at least fifteen thousand of the most beautiful women and girls ever assembled. Hollywood has nothing on Southeast Missouri. Even the men down there are not so bad looking. If Mrs. Whyte and I may transfer my headquarters to this live wire city. It was a great day for The Lammerts, The Fair Company and Yours Truly." Ben M. Schmidt of the Majestic fame, smilingly put it this way: "This day surpasses any activity of the kind in which I ever had a part. The attendance was far in excess of the number I imagined would come and I got a 'kick' in distributing Majestic cook books and demonstrating refrigerators to these thousands of Mr. Lair's friends. The Majestic Company is sold on the way Sikeston goes things." H. L. Stroude, of the Moore Bros. Stove company, edged in with a remark something like this: "You can take it from me that the entire show, crowds, parade, displays and entertainment would have done credit to a city of fifty thousand people. Sikeston is one of the liveliest cities on my list. I would not have missed this show for anything." Roy Gustine, of the Sellers Cabinet Company, expressed himself briefly but to the point: "It was one of the most interesting days I ever had in my life demonstrating Sellers Cabinets. A beautiful day, great numbers of people, interested spectators and a good store to back me up. No salesman could ask for more. Sikeston certainly knows her stuff when it comes to drawing crowds and handling them properly." L. L. Baker, who drives a specially constructed Florence with parade truck, was tickled pink with the day's results. Here's his estimate of the affair: "I have been making Southeast Missouri for years, but this has been the most active day I ever had in demonstrating my Company's line. Sikeston business men are evidently alive to the fact that under present conditions very special efforts are necessary to draw trade from a distance and hold it. I am glad to have had a small part in the program of a wonderful day." Fndnami

Potashnick Trucks Put it Over the Internationals

In the best played game of the Muny season, Manager Duke Weideman, of the Potashnick Trucksters, made his comeback in story book style. All he did was to gather four hits out of as many trips to the plate and made a sensational catch in the field. He was the whole show and without him the Truckers might have been beaten. Sherry hurled a nice game for the winners, allowing only two hits and one run. Sexton hurled a very nice game for the Internationals until the fourth, when he walked Dudley to fill the bases and then the "Duke" cleaned up with a triple. The two best bits of fielding were done by Johnson and Page of the Internationals. Johnson made a nice running catch of Sherry's long fly in the 5th and Page went behind second for a nice stop and throw to take a hit away from Hopper in the 7th.	Weideman, lf.....	4	0	4

An unusually large Senior class this year necessitated the presentation of two senior plays in the place of the customary one, and so on the evenings of May 16 and 18 consecutively, the two plays, "Widow By Proxy" and "Cocktails or Tea" will be ready for production. A ticket to the two plays may be had at the regular price of one. A brief synopsis of the plays and the cast of characters follow:

"WIDOW BY PROXY"

This is the story of the talkative, mischievous audacious Gloria Grey, who suddenly discovers that her finances are in an embarrassing position. While Gloria is humorously holding off an army of creditors, her friend, Dolores, falls heir to a small fortune, which she refused to accept because of a dislike for the relatives of her late husband, Jack Pennington. Gloria, however, persuades her to let her impersonate Dolores by posing as Jack's widow. Gloria succeeds in winning over Dolores' relatives and is about to marry Captain Pennington, of the Navy, with whom Dolores is supposed to divide the fortune, when Jack turns up alive and upsets the promising scheme of the fictitious widow. After many amusing complications, Dolores and Jack are united and Gloria and the Captain continue on their way to the altar.

The characters:
Gloria Grey, a bachelor maid.....Virginia Baker
Dolores Pennington, Gloria's protegee, a widow.....Mae Pepper
Gillian, a dressmaker.....Lynnette Stallcup
Angelica Pennington, Dolores' aunt by marriage.....Olga Matthews
Saphronia Pennington, Dolores' aunt by marriage.....Olga Matthews
Capt. Pennington, U. S. N., the Misses Pennington's nephew
Jonithan, the Misses Pennington's nephew.....Lawrence Adams
Alexa Galloway, the Pennington's Attorney.....Sam Bowman
Robbins, the Pennington's servant.....Lewis Conley

"COCKTAILS OR TEA"

"Cocktails Or Tea" opens in an apartment in New York City with a group of artists, in various lines. Young Osgood is the idol of the women, most of whom are blase and superficial. He has been left a fortune in Virginia, but must go there and live on the land a month. Acts II and III are set on the ancestral plantation of the Osgoods where Miss Carol lends charm to a mode of life directly in contrast to Act I. A delightful whimsical play with clever lines and frequent dashes of poetic beauty. The philosophy of life and the Barrie-like atmosphere of these acts overcome the shock of the first act.

The cast:
Thomas Osgood, a young novelist.....Albert Mull
Judith Hunt, part of his public.....Neva Mae Taylor
Hugh Hunt, her husband.....Robert Jackson
Julia Leigh, almost on the stage.....Laura Jo Smith
Sylvia Warren, a bit of an artist.....Jenalee Sells
Reva Ellington, something or other in Wall Street.....Marjorie Mow
Maggie, an Irish Maid.....Henrietta Moore
Sewell Osgood, a gentleman of Virginia.....Bruce Lewis
Carol Osgood, his daughter.....Ruth Powell
Mr. Hickman, Mr. Osgood's attorney.....Gordon Maples
Sue, a negro servant.....Edith Frey

District Meeting of Federated Music Clubs

The Sixth Annual Conference of the Ninth District Missouri Federation of Music Clubs met at Kennett, Saturday, May 6th. The meeting was held in the Methodist church with Miss Clara Drew Miller of Cape Girardeau, district president, presiding. After roll call and the business session, the delegation was invited to the dining room, where a most delightful luncheon was served. During the meal, Mrs. Hallie Swank of Kennett gave the visitors a most warm welcome address. Mrs. H. E. Reuber of Sikeston gave the response, which was so beautifully given that the Sikeston members were quite proud of her. Mrs. C. L. Joslyn gave report of State meeting at Sedalia and Miss Miller gave a most interesting paper on "Music in Leisure". In the afternoon a musical program was given by members of the various clubs. Mrs. Ralph Anderson opened the program with two organ numbers, which proved her skill as an organist and her ability to please an audience. The choruses from the different clubs proved to be a delight to all. Mrs. Leo Timmerstein of Bloomfield, with her rich soprano voice favored the audience with two selections which was most pleasing to everyone. Mrs. J. L. Priestner of Charleston, with her rich mezzo soprano voice, also delighted the audience with two solos. Mrs. L. H. Van Amburg of Lutesville proved her ability as a violinist, by rendering selections in a very artistic manner. Mrs. L. B. Edwards of Kennett was pianist soloist and delighted the audience with two selections. The climax of the program was reached when all the Choral Clubs merged into one big choral ensemble with 75 or more voices in the group. Under the able leadership of Mrs. Harry Shaw, District Choral director, three numbers were delightfully rendered. Mrs. C. L. Joslyn of Charleston was chosen president of the district to succeed Miss Clara Drew Miller of Cape Girardeau. Mrs. H. E. Reuber of Sikeston was re-elected secretary; Mrs. Harry Shaw of Farmington, District Choral Director and Mrs. Joe Bowman of Sikeston, District Extension Chairman. At the close of the session, Mrs. E. H. Orear of Sikeston in a very beautiful and touching manner presented Miss Miller, retiring painting from the clubs of district in appreciation of her services as president of the District for the past seven years. The Club adjourned to meet at Sikeston next May, 1934. Those from Sikeston who attended the meeting were: Mrs. E. H. Orear, Mrs. Ralph F. Anderson, Mrs. J. E. Hamby, Mrs. H. E. Reuber, Mrs. X. Caverno, Miss Ellen Caverno, Mrs. Milton Mann, Mrs. S. L. Hunter, Miss Evelyn Hunter, Mrs. Joe Bowman, Mrs. W. E. Hollingsworth and Mrs. T. B. Allen of Sikeston.

Memphis Woman Injured In Accident Tuesday

New players, among them this fellow Williams of Matthews, who let the Aces down with no hits last Sunday in an eight-inning game. This Marshall boy from Crowders looks like a mighty sweet third sacker, has a good arm, and he can move around those bags. As predicted this is going to be a good year for the Muny League. Good players should be developed during the season. The Midwest Aces have the classiest youngsters at the present time. Every youngster should take advantage of the offer to go to Cape Girardeau on May 27 to see the Old Timers Team sent out by the Major League as a good will mission-ary. The price of admission is a copy of the current weeks Sporting News price one dime. These ex-big leaguers will devote two hours of instruction to the youngsters before game time. See Harry Dudley for particulars.

New Madrid, May 10.—Mr. and Mrs. Claude E. King, age 56 and 46, respectively, of Memphis, Tenn., had a narrow escape Tuesday about 12:30, near New Madrid, when they turned into a ditch to avoid hitting a Pontiac driven by Morris Frankle, of this city, who was out driving with his mother and father. Mr. and Mrs. King had been to Illinois on a visit and were returning to Memphis, going south on Highway 61. Mr. Frankle was also going south, and after passing the car driven by Mr. and Mrs. King, not noticing the car so near, or giving a signal, started to turn off Highway 61 on the road entering New Madrid. When King saw the only way to avoid hitting the car would be to take the ditch, which he did without touching the car driven by Frankle. Mr. and Mrs. King were rushed to New Madrid, where they were given

Burglar Has Change of Heart

Runnede, N. J., May 8.—Here's a burglar who came to rob but remained to pay. In the early hours of the morning, he "jimmied" his way into the home of Harry McMichael, an unemployed mechanic. A sight that met his eye in the kitchen, drove all thought of his original purpose from his mind, however, for on the floor lay McMichael's four children—asleep. McMichael later found where the rear door had been forced but he also found a note on the kitchen table. "I saw the little tykes", it read, "So I'll give you a break". Attached to the note was a $1 bill.

medical aid by Dr. Wm. O'Bannon. It was found that Mrs. King had one broken rib, cuts around one eye, on her forehead and over her limbs and several minor bruises, but not seriously hurt. Mr. King only had one cut over his forehead and bruises. Their car, which was a Chevrolet, was taken to LaFont's garage in Portageville, where it was found that the car had a damage of $100. Word was sent to their son in Memphis, who is a dentist there, about the accident and he came to New Madrid after them in a Packard, where Mrs. King was to be given further aid in a hospital there.

NEW ELECTRIC COMPANY OPEN ON CENTER STREET

A new electric company known as the Electric Service Company, has been formed by James Dowdy and Paul Rankin, and is located on Center Street in the room formerly occupied by Glover's Grocery. The new company is equipped to offer a complete electric and radio service, and as Mr. Dowdy has been in business in Sikeston before, the service he offers is well known as first class. Read their advertisement in this issue.

RHODE ISLAND THIRD STATE TO VOTE WET

Providence, May 8.—Rhode Island officially voted to repeal the Eighteenth Amendment this afternoon by a unanimous vote of 31 delegates elected to a constitutional convention last Monday. The delegates voted approval of and signed individually the resolution ratifying the Eighteenth Amendment repeal, and instructed convention officers to certify the action of the convention to the secretary of State. Rhode Island's approval of repeal was thus added to those of Wisconsin and Michigan.

LIONS AND C. OF C. TO SPONSOR LOCAL BAND

The regular mid-week luncheon of the Lions Club was held Wednesday at Hotel Marshall, and the business meeting conducted. It was decided at the meeting that the Lions, in connection with the Chamber of Commerce, would sponsor the local band, known as Milburn Arbrough's band, and that each month certain appropriations would be made to take care of its music and any other necessary accessories.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETING

The Woman's Club held a very interesting meeting Tuesday afternoon when Mesdames Arch Russell, Calvin Greer, C. C. White and L. R. Burns gave a splendid report of the Biennial of the Woman's Federate Club meeting held in St. Louis last week. The next and last meeting of the Club will be held at the home of the president, Mrs. Arch Russell and all members should make an effort to be present.

Mrs. C. A. Cook, the librarian, reported over 500 books circulated during the month of April. A number of new books have been placed in the library and any family in Sikeston who does not hold a membership is cordially invited to do so. The membership cost $1.00 per year.

The library is open three afternoons a week.

PERTINENT PARAGRAPHS FROM THE PARIS APPEAL

A lot of outrages have been perpetrated by mobs in this country. We can recall none, however, that was more infamous than the action of those Iowa farmers who dragged a judge from the bench and subjected him to indignities from which a murderer would be immune in that State. The guilty parties, especially those leaders who were directly responsible for that march on a court of law, should be promptly convicted and given long terms in the penitentiary.

Mrs. Roosevelt certainly is a lovely woman. A lovely woman is one who is just as gracious to a commoner character as to an aristocrat who has money, and who does not limit her graciousness to a favored few. Last week, for instance, a large delegation of New England fisher folk went to Washington to see if the president could do something for their depressed industry. Mrs. Roosevelt had them as guests in the White House, taking them for a personally conducted inspection of that historic building. The men had the time of their lives. The first lady of the land said it was one of the most delightful evenings she had spent in Washington. To the nation at large it is refreshing to see the court etiquette which characterized the Hoover and Coolidge administrations give way to real American home customs in the White House. Mr. Roosevelt, too, goes out on the porch to meet his guests and accompany them into his house.

Monroe County school teachers should revolt against requirements of the State department, or any other department, for attendance at summer schools until the expense incident to such work is justified by the salaries they receive. Some rural teachers in this locality will get only $30 a month next term. Many will be limited to $40 a month. Very few will get as much as $50. Teachers in town schools will be on starvation wages, considering living expenses and the large sums they have spent at college or university in fitting themselves for their profession. Those who have a reasonable amount of credits from State training schools should be exempted by local boards from making further sacrifices until patrons are able or willing to pay salaries which justify the expense incident to further preparation. The State has no right to demand first-class qualifications when it does nothing to protect teachers of that type from such salaries as they are now forced to accept. Those who already have a reasonable amount of credits will be justified in declaring a moratorium on summer school expense until the State provides salary standards as well as teaching standards.

The classic Greek dance, as put on by imaginative young women of classic build, is another thing which contributes to the gaiety of the nations. It is a combination of hop, skip and jump—hopping in to the air for imaginary butterflies, skipping through imaginary fields of fragrant flowers, jumping

HERE'S HOW—WITH PINEAPPLE!

Another food innovation—the iced pineapple cup, made from crushed canned pineapple or tidbits—has been added to the housewife's list of cooling afternoon refreshments.

It made its appearance recently at winter resort beaches in the wake of announcements of nutritional studies which revealed canned pineapple as a valuable source of vitamins A, B and C and five essential minerals. In addition, it is being served as a breakfast fruit and as an appetizer or dessert at dinners. Eaten regularly, the dietetic studies showed the fruit also aids digestion and in the prevention and correction of acidosis and nutritional anemia.

Teaching Hawaii about pineapple might seem like carrying coals to Newcastle. But after all, it took America to give the hula dance, the ukulele and the beach at Waikiki an international reputation.

THIRD ANNUAL NEGRO SCHOOL FAIR FOR SCOTT COUNTY

by Miss L. A. Myers, Jeanes Supervisor for Scott County

For three years the negro school children have come to Sikeston for this occasion from all parts of Scott County, where the negro school is a consolidated district that school board will send the negro children here in a school bus. This year the following school boards did this: Benton, Commerce, Diehlstadt and Oran.

This year a County chorus was organized. Nine schools sang the same thing in the time and at the same time. Three community songs and three negro spirituals were given. The program was too full for any more songs. Another year we are planning to have a special day for a County chorus.

A male quartette was started in the Sikeston school about two months ago. They sang twelve numbers at different times during the day.

A large number of dresses made especially to encourage the school girls to make their own dresses from prints and other inexpensive wash material.

A school dress show was given. A large number of dresses were worn by the girls from over the County. No dress was worn that cost over 50 cents.

The Sikeston school girls made the dress that the Jeanes Supervisor or Miss L. A. Myers wore. The cost of it was a little more because she continues to grow larger. Six yards of voile, 25c per yard, 25c for hemstitching. They also made three more print dresses for her at a very small cost.

The industrial exhibit for the girls included pillow cases, tea towels, baby clothes, luncheon sets, vanity sets, handkerchiefs, sofa pillows (small and large), bath mats, underwear and dresses. The work was done by hand and by machine. In several of the schools, the teacher rented a sewing machine and carried it to her school.

across the imaginary brooks of limpid waters. It is a very serious and solemn thing to the hoppers, skippers and jumpers, and to those in the audience who pretend to be exponents of the spirit of cultured Greece. To all others it is what Abe Edwards used to call a ridiculous performance. American women originally took to the classic dance because it was the only thing a bare-legged woman could do in public and keep out of jail. Even then, she had to move in high society circles. The same performance in a rathskeller or on a coal oil circuit stage would have meant a patrol wagon ride. Since bare legs have become a style instead of an adventure, the unclad pursuers of imaginary butterflies have quit cutting those funny zippers and turned to the fad of wearing pants, on the theory that the way to stimulate the imaginations of spectators is to hide instead of display personal charms.

In other cases, the parents sent their machines to the school for the teacher and pupils to use. The boys had a small amount of woodwork from over the county.

This was the first year that the boys in the Sikeston school had received instructions in wood work. W. S. Hunt has charge of this work. There were about thirty pieces of wood work. If they are given a chance another year, their exhibit will be better because they are very anxious to learn to use tools. Some of the work included: End tables, one writing desk, magazine racks, tie holders, one floor lamp, (the girls made the shade), two porch swings and a large number of ironing boards.

No cooking was exhibited because there was no place to put it. The girls in the Sikeston school are taught to cook plain foods and cakes, pies, etc. Things that the average family can have in their homes. In many cases the girls do most of the cooking for the family, when they are at home. They are also taught to can fruits and vegetables.

R. L. Furry, County Agent, was down from Benton, and gave 4-H Club achievement pins to members in the Clothing Club. Two Clubs in the Sikeston school, Sand Prairie, Crowder, Benton and Commerce. The girls from the Bugle Ridge school earned their pins but for some reason were not here to receive them. The Chaney, Diehlstadt and a Health Club at Keifer have not gotten their work straight but they are planning to this month.

A Club meeting was given by the Poultry Club at Commerce. It was to demonstrate how the boys carry on their 4-H Club work.

Mr. Furry made several pictures of the exhibit and the Clubs. This year Scott County has had twenty-five different 4-H Clubs. Miss L. A. Myers, Jeanes Supervisor, has been working with Mr. Furry helping with this work.

Mr. Blanton, the editor of The Sikeston Standard, was down. He brought several ladies, and he made a very interesting talk.

County Supt. O. F. Anderson had charge of the program, when the dress contest started until it closed.

Two of the best speeches were made by out-of-town people. Assistant State Superintendent O. J. Sanford of Jefferson City, Missouri State Department of Public Schools, talked about the condition of negro education in Missouri and how the Jeanes work had been started in four Counties in Southeast Missouri.

The best treat of the day was a surprise to have Hon. B. C. Caldwell from Charlottesville, Va., to visit us again. He is the ex-field agent for the Jeanes and Slater Funds. Mr. Caldwell has helped negro education all over the Southern States and was field agent for over 30 years. He worked with Dr. J. H. Dillard, the ex-president of the Jeanes and Slater Funds. These are the men that have been responsible for the Ministers' Institute in Southeast Missouri, for three years. It was worth a great deal to have the privilege of hearing him, especially when we did not know that he was near Sikeston of Missouri.

The Jeanes Fund was started by a little Quaker lady weighing about 90 pounds, in Pennsylvania. She gave $1,000,000 to be used for negro education in the rural schools in the South. She said that the schools in towns would be taken care of, but the boys and girls in the small rural schools did not have a chance. Poor teachers, short school terms and poor buildings were all that received. She wanted to help them and did. They are being taught to use their hands as well as to get the subject matter from their books. Dr. J. H. Dillard was the first president of the Jeanes Fund and now there are over 325 Jeanes Supervisors in fifteen Southern States.

A Jeanes teacher will work all over the country and encourage the teachers in the schools over the County in which she lives. Dr. Arthur D. Wright is president of these funds now. The Slater Fund is also a $1,000,000 and was given to aid in training negro teachers. As we all know, the Julius Rosenwald Fund helps to build schools for negroes. There are over 5000 of these buildings. Hon. S. L. Smith has charge of this work.

The only thing that the people wanted was the Ministers' Institute. Dr. J. H. Dillard has charge of this and was out of the United States this spring. Miss Myers was finally able to get Lincoln University to send a speaker down to talk to the parents Tuesday evening, but they said that every negro minister must write to Dr. Dillard, asking for this meeting to come to Scott County again. When adults are so very anxious to learn it is a very good sign and they should be taught.

Several of the people from the white race came to see the exhibit during the day. Some were early enough to hear the program, others came to see the industrial exhibit and to hear the quartette sing. In the evening, outdoor games were enjoyed between the schools over the County.

Another year a better program is being planned by Miss Myers.

POPULAR BLUFF GOLFERS DEFEAT SIKESTON SUN. BY A SCORE OF 40 TO 19

The local golfers suffered defeat at the hands of the Popular Bluff Club Sunday in their second game of the season played on the Bluff hole course, with the Bluff golfers making a total of 40 points to the Sikeston Club's 19. Par for the game was 34. Outstanding players in the game were Ted Borth of Popular Bluff with a low total of 75 and C. C. Scott, this city, with a 76 for both rounds. Joe Fern of Popular Bluff and H. Alexander and Bill Malone of Sikeston, also played good golf Sunday, each having a low score of 77.

The next game will be played against Kennett on the local links May 21.

Liver Sufferers Amazed At Results Obtained From Remarkable New Treatment

Thousands Reporting Sargon Soft Mass Pills Have Brought Them Lasting Relief From Constipation—Sour Stomach—Sick Headaches—Gas—Bad Breath—Coated Tongue—Nervousness and Dizzy Spells After Everything Else Had Failed.

If Your Liver Is Not Performing Its Proper Functions—Sickness—Suffering and Ill Health Are the Inevitable Result.

Science Has Proved That Salts, Calomel, Mineral Waters, Oils, Laxative Pills, Herb Teas or Extracts Have No Effect Whatever on the Liver or Its Production of Bile.

Unless you have tried Sargon Soft Mass Pills you can have no idea of the effects produced by this natural cleansing of your liver and bowels. It makes you feel years younger, stronger, healthier and happier. It brings back life and color to faded eyes and cheeks, restores the appetite and sound digestion—gives you a new outlook on life itself.

Bile is nature's laxative and your stomach and bowels require at least one quart of fresh bile every day to keep them clean, pure, free from fermentation, gas and disease germs.

When your liver becomes sluggish the bile stagnates and stops flowing freely. The contents of your bowels become the breeding place for germs and poisons; your food does not digest—it just ferments and decays in the bowels. The blood absorbs these poisons and you suffer from constipation, gas, sick headaches, biliousness, nervousness and sour stomach. Sargon Soft Mass Pills remove the cause of this condition in nature's way. They are not like any other medicine you have ever taken. They are so gentle, thorough and natural in their action there is nothing about them to remind you that you have ever taken a medicine, and most remarkable of all you gradually reduce the dose until you no longer require a laxative of any kind.

Insist on genuine Sargon Soft Mass Pills. Don't be misled. There are only two generally recognized substances which will actually stimulate a torpid or sluggish liver to cleanse and purify itself by increasing its production of bile. Sargon Soft Mass Pills contain both of these substances and no other advertised medicine on the American market today does contain them. Only one for a full 30-day treatment. At each dose, or twice a day, 2-3 pills, 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th, 9th, 10th, 11th, 12th, 13th, 14th, 15th, 16th, 17th, 18th, 19th, 20th, 21st, 22nd, 23rd, 24th, 25th, 26th, 27th, 28th, 29th, 30th.

Mr. and Mrs. Puckett will make their home in Fairfield, Ill., and Jackson, Tenn.

NEGRO STUDENTS EXHIBIT

SPLENDID WORKMANSHIP IN COUNTY FAIR HERE

The third Annual Negro School Fair for Scott County was held at the local school building all day Tuesday at which time a splendid program was presented and various articles of clothing, which had been made by the students of the County, were exhibited. Negro students from Benton, Commerce, Diehlstadt, Oron and Sand Prairie were present to take part in the program.

The program was begun by several choral numbers by the recently organized county chorus, composed of nine schools, followed by prayer by one of the ministers. A quartet of boys also rendered several musical selections followed by a demonstration by the Commerce Club of how a 4-H Poultry Club business meeting is conducted. Mr. Brown of this city gave a short talk on the co-operation of the parents with the teachers in an effort to educate their children, and one minute talks were made by Mrs. Pettigrew, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Taylor, Jeannes Supervisors from various counties.

One of the features of the morning program was, what might be termed, a style show, or an exhibit of garments made by various students of the County, each participant wearing a dress made by herself and carrying some other garment which she had also made. All of the dresses showed very good taste, good workmanship, made in the newest styles, and were exceptionally neat and clean.

The old brass bed need not stay an eye sore in this enlightened age. Apply two coats of flat cream paint and when thoroughly dry cover with walnut stain. It will change the whole atmosphere of the bedroom.

If planning to go away soon, start saving the cardboard that come home in hubby's shirts from the laundry. These slipped into frocks and blouses, form a splendid protection against wrinkles.

NEW MADRID COUNTY SCHOOL NOTES

A big rally will be staged at the New Madrid high school building next Monday morning and we expect a good turnout of business men and school supporters. This is a part of the State-wide move to persuade Governor Park to call a special session of the legislature to formulate a sales tax to give financial help to our schools which are facing starvation.

At this meeting we expect to work out a practical plan to get an expression of the sentiment of the people. Those who cannot be present should sit down and write a personal letter to Governor Park urging him to take action and save our schools.

With the present outlook some of our schools will be able to pay only $30 per month for teachers next year. And we know of schools in other counties which have employed teachers for as low as $20 per month. People must not sit still or quibble over details while such outrageous conditions exist.

Unless something is done many of our high school districts are going to be forced to choose between eliminating their high schools or starving their grades in order to keep the high school going.

The following letter has been sent out to school boards and business leaders for distribution and publicity:

A State-wide drive is being made to acquaint the people with our educational crisis and a conference will be held in each county to prepare a militant plan of action. Committees are to make arrangements for these conferences and in this county the State department has imposed this duty on the County Superintendent and Supt. G. D. Englehart.

We have decided to hold the New Madrid County Conference on Monday, May 15, 9:30 a. m., at New Madrid and desire that at least one member of each school board be present. We also highly desire that business men and officials of Chambers of Commerce, Parent-Teachers Associations, and other organizations be present.

We truly hope that the citizens of New Madrid County take vigorous action in urging Governor Park to call a special session of the legislature this summer to give relief to our schools and prevent the collapse of many.

We should rally at this meeting and convince the leaders of the State that we are ready to fight to the last ditch rather than to let our schools suffer or to completely wreck our property tax system by imposing heavier property taxes in a futile effort to bolster up school finances.

Our property tax levied for school purposes should be reduced 50 per cent and our schools should be run by income tax, sales tax, and other indirect taxes. If the people of the State will fight consistently they will get what they want. The State-wide move now seems to be centered on a sales tax.

In one district this year only $24 in taxes was collected for the Teacher's Fund on a levy of 40c, and only $57 in another. Such conditions are truly alarming. The wealth of the State, wherever it is, should educate the children of the State, wherever they are.

Among those taking part in the dress exhibit were Arleen Howard, Ellen Brown, Tessie Hayes, Martha Lee Bounds, Sueella Hayes, Carleen Howard, Ernestine Williams, Essie Mae Hall, Fannie Mae Slaughter, Cyndia Mohan, Ora Lee Bell, Bettie Lee Shost and Pearl Mohan, from Miss Huddleston's Class from fourth grade on up and from Benton, Elsie Carter, Bernice Moseley, Imogene Moseley, Lulia Mae Moseley, Lois Avant, Gladys Firming, Ella Webb, Alma Fleming, Louise Reynolds, Annie Mae Reynolds, Mary Contory, Virles Ginnings, and Gladys Bryant from Mrs. Minnie White's class of Sand Prairie; and Margaret Ross, Lallene Allen, Anna Sanders, Lillie Mae Allen and Blanche Murphy from C. A. Patterson's class of Commerce.

The afternoon was devoted to outdoor games and contests, and at various times during the afternoon musical selections by the quartette were rendered, and talks were made by B. O. Caldwell of Natchitoches, La., who was for many years a member of the Jeanes and Slater Fund Board, and by O. G. Sanford of Jefferson City, Assistant State Superintendent.

Under the supervision of Mrs. L. A. Myers, Jeannes Supervisor, and assistant in 4-H Club work to R. L. Furry, County Agent, a wonderful work has been done in the local negro school system, which was plainly manifested by the exhibits made Tuesday of the work done through the year. Beautifully embroidered pillow cases, luncheon sets, tea towels, pot holders, dresser scarfs, napkins and pongee handkerchiefs, neatly constructed print dresses, pajamas, voile gowns hemstitched and embroidered, various articles of underclothing, quilts, yo-yo pillow tops and baby layette, shoes and caps were among the things exhibited. But not only are the girls trained, but the boys have been receiving training from Mr. Hume in manual training. Some of their work was also exhibited including magazine racks, end tables, tie racks and a floor lamp, the shade of which was made by the girls. Sikeston should, indeed, be proud of the colored race, in our city, who are so eager to have their children educated and so willing to co-operate to make themselves better citizens.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL FROM CANALOU

(By Ethel Wright)

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Powers, Mrs. Ben Muffett and son, Ernest, of East Chicago, arrived Friday for a short visit with Ernest Muffett's family and other relatives and friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Huffstetler of Blytheville, Ark., were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Percy.

Canalou was well represented at the International Shoe Factory Day at Sikeston Saturday.

Mrs. Geraldine Young and Mrs. F. R. Vaughn spent the week-end at Mrs. Vaughn's home in Bernie.

hara, a volcano on an island outside Tokio Bay, the Tokio correspondent of the Daily Mail reported today. The volcano was exercising a strange lure, the dispatch said.

Sunday six men sprang into the smoking abyss. The police prevented fifteen men and five women from doing likewise. They said that in three months they saved 150 lives by holding victims of the lure away from the crater's rim.

Simon Rothschild of New York, 100 years old, boasts of having retained all his mental faculties. He says: "My memory is so good that I can make the same mistakes today that I made 50 years ago".

Miss Appalone Taul, Don Alexander, Byron Spencer, Clifton Thurman and Owen Taul attended the baccalaureate sermon at Morehouse Sunday evening.

Mrs. J. W. Vaughn and brother, H. Stansfield, were Sunday guests of Mrs. Lumsden's son, Charles Lumsden and family of Matthews. They also attended the baccalaureate services there Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Baughn and twins, of Coater, visited relatives here Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Coppage and Mrs. P. L. McLaurin shopped in Sikeston, Tuesday.

The B. Y. P. U. Convention for this district was held here Sunday afternoon. The building here was filled to overflowing. A large crowd was present from Sikeston and Morehouse. Canalou had the largest attendance and received the attendance banner.

Miss Maude Adams of Sikeston spent the week-end with friends here. She assisted with the preparation for the Junior-Senior banquet.

The appointment of Dr. William J. Thompkins of Kansas City as a member of the board of curators of Lincoln University at Jefferson City, will meet with wide approval in negro educational and Democratic circles in Kansas City and is now president of the Missouri Negro Democratic Association. He is also the editor of the Kansas City American, probably the best known negro newspaper in the middle west, and in the capacity of editor has rendered his party valuable assistance in past campaigns. Dr. Thompkins is largely responsible for the negro university securing an appropriation from the State legislature which will make it possible for it to become a grade "A" institution, as was first pledged by the late Francis M. Wilson and later by Governor Park.

Living beyond their means is one of the many causes of bankruptcies among wage-earning consumers of the United States, it is indicated by a recent study conducted by the Commerce Department, the results of which were published in a report entitled "Causes of Bankruptcies Among Consumers". This, the first intensive study of a large number of cases of consumer bankruptcies, is designed to bring to light the basic causes of these failures and provide facts which will be of assistance in reducing the number of bankruptcies among consumers. Next to extravagance as a source of consumer insolvency, evasion of judgment debts was found to be the cause most frequently leading to the bankruptcy courts. This cause accounted for 15.4 per cent of all the defaults studied. Avoidance of liabilities on foreclosed real estate formed the motive for seeking relief thru bankruptcy in 13.5 per cent of the cases surveyed.

The new Indian wheat crop just harvested is only about sufficient for local needs, according to the Grain Market News Service of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Production is placed at 340,480,000 bushels last year and 391,000,000 the record harvest of 1931. The short crop this year is attributed mainly to the inadequate supply of moisture at seeding time, which resulted in a smaller acreage, and also to the failure of the winter rains which in some seasons largely offset an unfavorable monsoon. Exports of Indian wheat during recent years have been of little importance, despite some relatively large harvests. Even from the record harvest in 1931, exports totaled only 4,000,000 bushels.

A stunt designed to call the attention of consumers to window displays in local stores is described in the Merchants Journal of Topeka, Kansas. A small daily paper in Oklahoma ran a daily story in the paper about the best looking show window in town on that date. The feature was played up on the front page every day for a month, so that it was possible for almost every store in town to get a write-up if it would take the trouble to put in one especially attractive window decoration.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL FROM MORLEY

(By Mrs. C. A. Stallings)

Rikki Leslie, third son of L. C. Leslie, left Friday for California, after a visit of nearly three months here with relatives and friends. He has made his home in California since his graduation from high school two years ago.

Mrs. R. H. Leslie went to St. Louis Tuesday, where she attended the State Biennial of Federated Clubs a few days and later visited her son, Carle, who is employed there.

Miss Virginia Eachus of Benton came down Saturday for a week-end visit with Maxine Daugherty.

Mrs. L. L. Hunter was a guest of her sister, Mrs. T. V. Miller and Mrs. W. A. Anthony, of Sikeston, Thursday.

Rev. and Mrs. Harry A. Showmaker of St. Louis visited among friends here Monday afternoon. Rev. Showmaker was pastor of the Methodist church here several years ago.

Jesse Walton made a business trip to East St. Louis, the first of the week.

Mrs. Lillie Cooksey of Kansas City was a guest of Mrs. Phoebe Black last week. Mrs. Cooksey is a former resident of this place as well as other Scott County towns.

Mrs. M. D. Thacker was hostess to the McMullin Missionary Society at an all day quilting last Thursday. Other guests were Messrs. Phoebe Black, Tillie Cooksey, Burnett Vaughn, Stevens and Grant of Oran.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Williams and family of Chaffee were visitors at the home of Mrs. T. L. Anderson Thursday morning.

Several workmen were busy several days last week loading out road machinery which was stored here by the Harrison Construction Co., after the completion of highway 61 two years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. James Joyce of Vanduser were guests at the U. A. Emerson home, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris Foster and family and Miss Maxine Daugherty were rock hunting and picnicking near Fredericktown, Sunday.

H. F. Emerson and Joyce Emerson were business visitors in St. Louis, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. U. A. Emerson are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, who arrived May 9. There are three brothers in the home to welcome the little lady.

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Harris and family, Rev. and Mrs. E. C. Ellis daughter, Mrs. Leonard Ford, Jr.,

and daughter, Eloise Stallings, Mary Agnes Vaughn and C. D. Harris, Jr., were among the number who were at Vanduser Sunday night for the baccalaureate sermon. It was delivered by Rev. T. G. Craft of Parma, who was M. E. pastor here.

Mrs. M. Crow went to Perry County Saturday to visit relatives. She spent the winter here with her daughter, Mrs. R. A. Moyers.

The baccalaureate sermon for the Morley high school will be given Sunday at 11 o'clock at the Baptist church by Rev. J. W. Jeffries.

A Mother's Day program will be presented at the evening service at the Baptist church Sunday, after which the pastor will give a message on the same subject.

The rapidly changing price level in recent years, changing marketing conditions and other factors, make it difficult to ascertain the net effect of trucking fruits and vegetables on price, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Truckmen-peddlers have unquestionably increased market outlets in many instances by trucking into sections which would not otherwise have been supplied to any considerable degree. Truck marketing has probably resulted in a larger proportion of low-grade or ungraded fruits and vegetables being placed on the markets, but it has also tended to improve the condition of some products, particularly as to freshness and desirable stage of maturity. As to price, growers have often obtained from truckers higher prices than were being offered by car-lot shippers.

JUST 46 POUNDS OF FAT GONE
FEELS 20 YEARS YOUNGER

"I surely can recommend Kruschen Salts. I reduced from 156 to 110 lbs., my natural weight and I feel 20 years younger. A pinch a day, keeps the fat away". Mrs. Vale Walter, Seattle, Washington (Dec. 30, 1932).

Once a day take Kruschen Salts—one half teaspoonful in a glass of hot water first thing every morning. Besides losing ugly fat SAFE-LY you'll gain in health and physical attractiveness—constipation, gas and acidity will cease to bother—you'll feel younger—more active—full of ambition—clear skin—sparkling eyes.

A jar that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle at any drug store in the world—but demand and get Kruschen and if one bottle doesn't joyfully satisfy you—money back—6

If you have gotten the oven too hot for the food you wish to put into it, place a small pan of cold water in the bottom of the oven. It will cause the temperature to drop immediately. To prevent the little oil heater from rusting while it is stored away during the summer, take equal parts of linseed oil, turpentine and liquid stove blacking and apply with a paint brush. Let dry thoroughly, then apply a second coat. Any nickel sections, grease thoroughly with lard or petroleum ointment.

Mrs. Byron Howlett and son, Byron, Jr., of Monticello, Ark., were guests of Mrs. Moore Greer, last Friday. Mrs. Howlett and son were guests of Mrs. Joe Howlett at Charleston. They left that afternoon for their home, in company with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Marshall of Charleston, who were enroute to Dallas, Texas, being called there by the death of Mrs. Marshall's mother.

The U. D. C. met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. T. B. Dudley and Mrs. W. W. Hinchey, assistant hostess. This was the last meeting of the U. D. C. until fall, and the book, story of Confederacy, was finished.

Mrs. Lee Bowman will entertain with a tea Saturday afternoon for the teachers of the local high and public schools.

Moore Greer returned home Tuesday night. Mr. Greer has spent two months in Northern Kentucky.

The W. B. A. Westway Club will be entertained next Monday night by Mrs. David Lumsden and Mrs. Willard Shain at the former's home on Cresap Street. The last meeting was held with Mrs. Clarence Marshall and Miss Laura Wright, assistant hostess. Ten members and one visitor, Mrs. Josephine Hitt, were present. Games were played during the social hour and prizes won by Mrs. Clyde Matthews and Mrs. David Lumsden.

Reports from J. R. Carraway, a patient at Missouri Baptist hospital, St. Louis, are that he remains about the same. Mrs. Carraway is in the city with her husband.

Supt. Roy W. Ellise was in Canolou last night, where he delivered the commencement address to the graduates of that school.

Miss Maud Adams attended the commencement exercises of the Canolou school, last night. John Hudson, of the Hudson Cafe, underwent an operation for cataract on one eye, last Friday afternoon, at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis. A letter to homefolks states that Mr. Hudson is getting along fine, but will have to remain in the hospital for 12 days.

The local chapter of the W. C. T. U. met Wednesday afternoon at the Methodist church with Mrs. J. A. Duncan in charge of the program. Mrs. F. E. Mount was program leader, and had as her subject "Citizenship". Rev. Duncan was also present and made a very interesting talk.

The Eastern Star Chapter held its regular meeting at the Odd Fellows Hall last night (Thursday).

DORCAS CLASS TO HAVE BANQUET FOR MOTHERS AT CHURCH FRIDAY NITE

Members of the Dorcas Class of the First Baptist church will entertain their mothers at a Mothers' Daughters' banquet in the basement of the church this (Friday) evening.

Miss Dorothy Walker will act as toastmistress, and has planned a very delightful program which includes the following numbers:

Welcome address—Miss Vernetta Smith
Response—Mrs. R. M. Feltner
"What My Mother Means to Me"—Miss Gladys Conley
Response—"What My Daughter Means to Me"—Mrs. Grover Lewis
Vocal solo—"Rock Me to Sleep, Mother"—Rev. Orville Steiner of Blodgett

A group of old songs by the girls' sextet
Vocal solo—Charles Maples
Several other musical numbers, recitations and a toast to the mothers will also be included in the program.

Kitchen-Cup-lets

by Della Taylor

There's a hunger of the mind
Which is of a different kind—
Putting flowers in a bowl
Will do much to feed your soul.

Feeding our bodies is probably one of the most important things in life because we have to eat merely to exist, don't we? However, there is another hunger which, to me, is almost as important, and that is the hunger for beauty.

Most of us feel that we have to have beauty in our homes, and the loveliest way I know of accomplishing this is to have flowers and growing plants to look at. Emerson in speaking of flowers once said, "A ray of beauty outvalues all the utilities of the world." And it is really almost a necessity for us to have beauty, of one form or another, in our lives.

Even in these days when the great army of the new-poor keeps increasing, I manage somehow to include flowers in my budget. This really isn't so extravagant as it sounds, since I do without something else in order to have flowers in the center of the table. It is really possible to do it very economically, and I would like to offer you the following suggestions.

Go to an inexpensive florist, first of all. Tell him that you will probably be getting flowers from him once or twice a week, but that you do not want to pay more than a certain amount—say fifty cents—at a time. Explain to him that you will be perfectly willing to take whatever flowers he has the most of that day, provided they are fresh. In this way he can afford to sell you flowers that should be more expensive because he might otherwise not be able to sell all of them.

If you do this you can always have fresh flowers, and they should never cost more than a dollar a week. However, if you do not feel that you can do this, here is another suggestion. I always do it myself, and it will not cost more than fifteen or twenty cents a week.

First of all you will have to have enough pebbles to fill three low bowls. Buy about six narcissus bulbs. Be sure to select ones that have started to sprout. Plant these in one of your bowls, using the pebbles instead of earth. Remember to cover them with fresh water once a day. In about a week, plant the second bowl in the same way. A week later, plant the third. It will take about three weeks for your first bowl to bloom and the blooms should last for about a week. By the time they fade, your second bowl will be in bloom. In this way, you will have an endless chain of dainty, fragrant narcissus.

The following are a few suggestions which should help to prolong the life of cut flowers:

1. Place withered flowers in water the entire length of their stems and leave them there for several hours. This will often revive flowers which look almost hopeless.
2. Cut the tips of stems (in a half-vertical cut) while under water. This allows the stem to absorb the water immediately instead of becoming partially dried as it does if exposed to the air for even an instant.
3. In cutting poppies, which ordinarily wilt almost before they are picked, try searing the stem with a match. If you do this immediately, it will enable you to keep them in water for several days.
4. To keep flowers fresh place a piece of charcoal, camphor or aspirin tablet in the water. Any one of these will do the trick, or you might try a little aromatic essence of ammonia.

A very pretty lamp is made by placing a geranium root in the water of each finger bowl. Try this the next time you have a geranium and see how enthusiastically it leaves its part when crushed.

Scott County Farm Club News

The Ant Hill Supper Club in the Bleda District of which Miss Helen Diebold is leader, gave a supper to their parents Sunday night, serving an excellent supper, games were played by both old and young. This club plans on holding its achievement program in about two weeks.

Members of the Club are: Viola Pobst, Cecelia Gosche, Evelyn Seimann, Christine Hahn, Marcella Diebold, Freda LeGrand and Isabelle Gosche.

Those present at the supper were:

Mr. and Mrs. George Gosche and family, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hahn and daughter, Christine, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo LeGrand, Frank LeGrand and daughters, Mary and Freda, Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Diebold and daughters, Frances, Marcella and Helen, Viola Pobst, Evelyn Seimann, Leon Diebold, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Purry and son, Alva Frank.

Health Clubs
Two Health and First Aid 4-H Clubs have their achievement program. The Diebold school, of which John Ludwig was the leader, had a 100 per cent completion of its members, who were as follows:

Lester Raines, Vernedia Raines, Jeanette Bles, Marjorie Ludwig, Berniece Raines, Theresa Tucker, Margaret Bles, Christine Weissmuller.

The Club organized in the Blodgett school with Miss Caroline Stebbins as leader, held its achievement program in the high school and the following members made the completion and received achievement pins from County Extension Agent Furry.

Ruby Mae Holder, Venita Masterson, Gladys Carr, Marjorie Boardman, Gladys Whitte, Vercie James, Helen King, Wanda Mae Smith, Loreta Levan, Madeline Mackley, Ruby Murrell, Thelma Murrell, Louise Neinstedt, Evelyn Fearman and Deloris Shell.

Other Clubs which will complete their health work and hold achievement programs within the next two weeks are the Kelso Health and First Aid Club, with Miss Lorene Scheeter as leader and two clubs in the Ansell school with Misses Aurabella Dannumuller and Eulah Thompson as leaders.

A series of demonstrations on garden and truck crop insect control will be given by County Extension Agent R. L. Furry and R. L. Lovvorn of the State Emergency Relief Committee in Scott County, in the next few days. The purpose of these meetings is to give practical demonstrations on the use of dusts and sprays for various garden insects. These meetings will be short, lasting about one hour and will be held in or adjacent to gardens, where the different methods employed will be demonstrated. The meeting places will be as follows:

RUSSIANS DEVELOP
250 STALKS OF WHEAT
FROM SINGLE GRAIN

Moscow, May 8.—Two hundred and fifty stalks of wheat from a single grain—this is said to be the most recent achievement of Soviet scientists who have been experimenting for years in an effort to increase food production.

This "super-wheat" is expected to protect Soviet Russia from the lean years it is facing.

Since the famine of 1920-21, scientists have been making microscopic examinations of various Russian soils. The "super-wheat", they say, will grow where no wheat grew before. While the giant stalks cover more territory than the former one stalk from a single grain, they give from 10 to 15 times more wheat per acre.

The increased wheat production is said to result from "maintenance of the life substance" of the soil by cultivating and feeding the bacteria it contains. This is done by fertilizing it with grass or hay, and, where necessary, certain minerals. Instead of burning wheat straw, it is plowed under.

LAIR STORE NEWS

"That Interesting Store"

HOUSE FURNISHINGS

Our 34 Year in S. E. Mo.

Approximately 16,000 people through our store in one day is an experience we had Saturday for the first time. The International Shoe Exhibit brought them of course, but many lingered to view our unusual furniture display. 'Twas a wonderful crowd, representing all parts of Southeast Missouri and made very plain the scope to which Sikeston trade territory may be extended if merchants carry well chosen stocks, offer superior service and are "on their toes" every minute. Our thanks go to those 16,000 people for calling. Come again, please—and again. In the meantime, let us supply your furniture needs.

Messrs. Lammert and Whyte for the Lammert Furniture Company, Stroude for Moores Stoves, Baker for Florence Oil Ranges, Gustine for Sellers Kitchen Cabinets and Schmidt for Majestic Products, all did fine work demonstrating their wonderful and varied products to thousands who filed by Saturday. A number of sales were reported along with the names of hundreds who expect to buy later. These gentlemen were all agreed that the show was a grand success, both as to size of crowd and interest in merchandise shown. They were thoroughly impressed with Sikeston as a live little city.

New merchandise is arriving almost daily which will certainly be interesting to house-cleaning shoppers. Recent shipments include felt base rugs and linoleum, the latter 12 ft. wide, porch gliders and rockers, Talisman Exclusive Axminster rugs and a number of bedroom suites in Modernistic design.

By the way, ladies who keep up with the trend in bedroom furniture are captivated by the beauty, cleverness and common sense lines of these new Modernistic ensembles. According to leading designers, the new ideas are going strong and have come to stay. Simple, but elegant, they cost but little more than the big "flashes" of other days.

A further word about Talisman Rugs. They are copies of expensive oriental patterns, each design having a history set out on the tag. All are woven with colors through to back. There are many other attractive features and with it all prices are extremely modest—ranging from $30 to $45.00. Pay by week or month if you desire.

Washington Comment

The Treasury has eased off somewhat in its demands regarding the use of gold. It appears that there is considerable doubt as to the constitutionality of the requirement that private stocks of that metal be turned in through the banks and for the time being the matter will be permitted to rest. The small man parted with his five dollar gold piece promptly, but the big man took his time. The result is that the mass of gold will remain in the hands that have held it heretofore. The incident is instructive in several ways. It teaches that persons of large affairs consult their own welfare and let the country go hang. It reminds us, also, that when any plan touches the vested and powerful interests, no time will be lost in raising questions as to its legality.

The White House conferences continue. Mr. McDonald has had his chat with President Roosevelt, and has departed. Other guests will be hailed at their coming, and wished a pleasant voyage at their going, but the public will learn few of the details of what actually took place. Nor is it necessary or desirable that the public be taken into confidence. Macaulay, who knew something about history, said that men are never so likely to settle a question rightly as when they discuss it freely. Freedom of discussion in the present instance could not have been attained in the face of publicity. Even diplomats are entitled, now and then, to have an hour of relief from the back-seat driver.

While the United States is trying to figure out some system whereby its railroads will be kept solvent and operating, the Japs and Chinese are busy blowing railroads to pieces. When the Orientals have tired of the war game, Uncle Sam probably will be given the opportunity to add to his own burdens by supplying the capital necessary to put the Manchurian railways again in running order.

The action of a hundred Iowa farmers, when they carried off an offending magistrate, greased his face, and took off his trousers, suggests that there are local diseases in which original and local remedies are indicated, and it is not well for the outsider to be too strong in his condemnation. Up on the other hand, the removal of the jurist's breeches did not help matters, and may come under the head of cruel and unusual punishments, which are forbidden by the constitution. Speaking of the handling of clothing as a symbol of conduct, maybe it would have been well if the farmers had been admonished by a cooler head to keep their pants on.

Out in the Pacific Ocean, a naval vessel has found a place about 35,000 feet deep. Perhaps the incident is an omen that the bottom has been reached, in another sense, on land. The Pacific hole is of some depth. Mount Everest, the highest mountain of the world could be dropped into it, to serve as a foundation for a structure as high as four Washington Monument and three Eiffel Towers.

If you lose what you paid for, your loss is no less even though the man or woman who sold to you has acted in perfect good faith. And any experienced real estate dealer will tell you that these honest mistakes are quite common. It's safest to have your title insured.

placed end to end, and the skipper of the Majestic, the largest steamship afloat, could steer a course over the spot without noticing that anything had been done.

The first of May was, as usual, a turbulent date. In many of the so-called civilized portions of the globe there were stone-throwings, blood-letting, and cries of down with something or someone. Chicago reported five bombings. There was an ambulance of noise on a memorable May Day in the past. On May 1, 1898, Admiral Dewey wiped out the Spanish fleet in Manila Bay. He disposed of the Spaniards easily enough. His task would be more difficult if he were living and called upon to check gangsters, Communists and others who make the first of the present month for annual disorder.

Adopting the set phrase, it can hardly be said that Mr. Hitler replied in a few well-chosen words, since the inferiority complex seems likely to be replaced by some other, quite as disastrous to German welfare.

The government of old Russia was obsessed by a complex, the Soviet rule is under the thrall of another, and Japan, the current nuisance, has her own particular mental distortion. It is well enough for Germany to lay plans for settling down to business, and in that she will have the sympathy of the world, but a reference to complexes is likely to recall, with corresponding uneasiness, that the World War grew out of a number of incompatible national complexes.

RUSTIC HUMOR

An Oklahoma tenant farmer received the following letter from a Texas friend the other day:

"Well, since I sold the little farm in Arkansas, I have prospered. You know we always lived in the one-room shack there, but I came over to East Texas and bought a farm, and pretty soon leased it to an oil company. I was lucky. They hit a big well on the place and now I have a swell house in town. It has six rooms. There is one room that we do nothing but eat in. There is one that we just sit in, two rooms that we don't do anything but sleep in, one room that we don't do anything but cook in, and there is one that is all white and has a place that you can wash all over, and over in the corner is a place you can wash your hands and feet in, and over in the other corner there is a place you can wash your feet in. When we moved in, there were two lids on this, but we have taken them off. We are using one of them for a dough board, and we have framed grandpa's picture with the other."

PAY BACK TAXES NOW AND SAVE PENALTY

State Auditor Forrest Smith is this week urging Missouri taxpayers to take advantage of the recently enacted law by which accrued penalties on back taxes may be remitted.

"This law, if taken advantage of," says Auditor Smith, in a statement to The Standard, "means a tremendous saving to the taxpayer who has been forced into arrears during the past few years. Many of them are unable to meet the terrific cost accruing through assessed penalties, interest and costs under the old law."

"It is now possible, by paying the original amount assessed, if paid not later than June 30th, 1933, to eliminate all such costs, thereby saving from 40 to 75 per cent of the amount due, depending upon the length of time they are in arrears."

Smith calls attention to the provisions of the new law, whereby if back taxes on real estate or personal property are paid by June 30, the entire amount added to the original tax by reason of costs, interest and penalties will be remitted in full. If paid between June 30 and August 31, 75 per cent will be remitted, and between August 31 and October 31, 50 per cent will be remitted. If paid between December 31, 1933, only 25 per cent of the accrued costs will be remitted.

"It should be definitely understood," says the Auditor, "that this law is in the form of a conditional cancellation and will not be effective after January 1, 1934. If, at the end of that time, back taxes have not been paid, the original costs, interests and penalties again become effective from the time the tax was due. The greatest saving can be effected by payment of back taxes before June 30, the next greatest saving by paying by August 31, the next by October 31, and so on. No saving whatever will be made if all back taxes, real or personal, are not paid before January 1st.

The new law making the above savings possible is considered by most authorities on taxation to be one of the most beneficial pieces of tax legislation enacted in recent years, if taken advantage of by those for whose benefit it was intended.

CHARLESTON LOSES GAME TO KENNETT

Charleston, May 7.—In a game that was played mostly in the rain and which lasted three hours, the Charleston Cardinals lost a closely played game to the Kennett Indians by a score of 10-8. In the last half of the fifth, the game was stopped by a downpour of rain and hail.

The Kennett Club garnered a total of 14 hits off the offerings of Ault and May, while the bats of Charleston could only hit safely 9 times. Totals for Kennett are 10 runs, 14 hits and 1 error; for Charleston, 8 runs, 9 hits and 8 errors. Eubanks, a left-hander, struck out 16 Charleston batters, while Ault could only whiff 5 and May 3.

Jim Miller, Charleston backstopper, led the hitting with a double and two singles. Eubanks also batted as well as he pitched, getting three singles. Sparks, Kennett first sacker, got two singles for second batting honors.

Kennett had 11 men stranded on the bases while Charleston only had 4 men left.

Charleston plays Pittsburgh, Ill., next Sunday on the local diamond.

Kennett opened the first inning with three men on base and no outs, by virtue of a double, walk and a single. Ault whiffed the next two batters and caused the third man to pop a fly to short. Charleston scored three runs in their half of the first on a batter hit by a pitched ball, two singles and an error. Kennett scored their first run in the second with a hit batter, a single and an error. In the fifth inning, Ault was blasted from the mound by the Indians, getting a walk and four singles counting four runs. May came over from first and was nicked for a hit and run in that inning. Kennett scored one run in the eighth on a walk, a single and an error. They counted their last runs in the ninth on two singles and an error. Charleston counted twice in the fifth, a hit batter, a walk, a single and a double doing the damage.

EBERT CALF SHOW IN CAPE GIRARDEAU

The Ebert Auction Company, Inc., of Cape Girardeau, is sponsoring a Boys' and Girls' Calf Show, to be held October 25 to 30 inclusive. The show is to be for fat steer calves between the age of 9 months and 18 months, and to be owned and exhibited by boy or girl from 10 to 20 years of age, inclusive. The show is to be held at the new live stock pavilion, and will be in connection with a large Farm Machinery and Equipment Display. Members of the National Farm Equipment Manufacturers will participate, and many thousands of farmers and live stock men from all over Southeast Missouri are expected to attend the exhibit. The Association's Slogan is: "Good Equipment Makes a Good Farmer Better", and they welcome the opportunity to show "Good Equipment".

The following premium list has been arranged, and will be officially issued about the 10th of June, with all rules and regulations. In fitting a calf for the show, may secure any information they may desire by writing the above auction company. Boys and girls do not have to belong to any calf club to participate in the show. It is an individual show, and anyone who desires, may enter their calf, if they abide by the rules governing the show.

CHAPTER XVII

Before Blondie could answer her father, Larry said quickly: "With me, I'm afraid..." "With you—who are you?" said Pa, turning on him. "My name happens to be Larry Belmont...now there's nothing to be alarmed about...she's been in very good hands...uh...she's been well looked after..." "She's never touched liquor in her life before..." "Well, I'm sorry...it was my fault. But there's nothing to worry about, I assure you." "I wouldn't be so sure with a man like you..." "Well, that's unkind...you can think what you like. Now you know, as a man of the world, if there had been anything I wouldn't be up here arguing about it—I'd have just parked her and left her...you know..." and Larry laughed understandingly at the father. "It's only because..." "You're intoxicated..." Pa was glaring fiercely. "And you're..." said Larry violently. Then shrugging his shoulders he said quietly, "Oh, well..." "Please, Pa!" said Blondie, suddenly realizing this was going too far. "What's the matter with you?" "Goodbye, Blondie...I'm very sorry," and Larry started down the stairs. "Larry!" Blondie called, and he stopped suddenly, "don't be cross." "I'm going to call you up," she said seriously, as she looked deep into his eyes. "Do," said Larry affectionately, "and explain to all of them how good we've been." Then giving her a little intimate pat on the cheek, "God bless, good night." He turned suddenly and ran down the stairs. Blondie watched him longingly as he went through the door and out of sight to the street. Then she turned and slowly walked past her father and into the flat. Her father followed her closely into the living room. As Blondie started for her own room, he said: "Come here. I want to talk to you." "Not now, I've heard enough. I'm going to bed." "Bed? You're due at the store in three hours." Blondie turned on him suddenly. "The store? Don't be silly, no more store. I'm in the Follies. I've seen Mr. Zigzag." "You're in the Follies?" Pa echoed incredulously. Then seeing the look of triumph on her face, "Is that where you've been?" "Yes, back of the stage, the dressing rooms, a speakeasy, and that Lurline... Say, is that a palace she lives in? Oh, Pa, listen and Blondie took off her hat and coat. Look at that, as she held up the hat, and let this fur piece, proudly displaying the coat she laid them carefully down on the box couch. "Let me

School Notes

The baccalaureate sermon was delivered Sunday evening at the Methodist church by Rev. Leslie Garrison of Sikeston.

Class Day was held Tuesday afternoon.

Commencement exercises were held Wednesday evening. The speaker for the evening was Prof. A. C. Magill, of the State Teachers' College of Cape Girardeau.

The seniors are leaving some beautiful pictures for the class rooms and also a large picture of the graduating class.

Both the grade and high schools enjoyed a picnic Thursday.

The examinations at the high school were given Tuesday and Wednesday, 9th and 10. At the grade school Tuesday.

We are sorry to lose the Senior class, yet we are glad they have accomplished their first step to higher ideals. We wish them the best of success in the future.

TRUSTEE'S SALE

WHEREAS, Eugene Buckles and Irene Buckles, his wife, by their certain deed of trust dated June 13th, 1925, and recorded in the Recorder's Office of Scott County, Missouri, in Book 50 at Page 128, it being one of the land records of said county, conveyed to R. E. Bailey, Trustee, all their right, title, estate and interest in and to the following described real estate:

All of Lot Numbered Nine (9) in Block Numbered Sixteen (16) in the Chamber of Commerce Addition to the City of Sikeston, Scott County, Missouri, which said conveyance was made to secure the payment of one promissory note or obligation in said deed of trust fully described, and,

WHEREAS, default has been made in the payments on said note in accordance with the terms and conditions of said note and deed of trust, and the entire note secured by said deed of trust has thereby become due and payable and is now long past due and unpaid,

NOW, THEREFORE, in accordance with the provisions of said deed of trust, I, the undersigned Trustee, by virtue of authority vested in me in and by said deed of trust, and at the request of the legal holder of said note or obligation, will proceed to sell the above described real estate at the Court House door in the City of Benton, Scott County, Missouri, at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, on SATURDAY, MAY 27TH, 1933, between the hours of nine o'clock in the forenoon and five o'clock in the afternoon of said day to satisfy said note, or obligation, interest, and expenses of executing this trust.

R. E. BAILEY, Trustee.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL
FROM MOREHOUSE

(By Doris James)

Sheriff S. J. Harris of New Madrid was in Morehouse a short while Sunday.

Friends of Bobby Fisher are glad to learn he is recovering satisfactorily from an appendicitis operation performed in the Emergency Hospital in Sikeston.

Miss Beatrice Faulkner of Bloomfield is visiting Miss Lila Rutledge this week.

Mrs. Nora Sexton of Metropolis, Ill., who had been visiting relatives here the past two weeks, returned to her home, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Aldrich of near Miner visited friends here, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wright left for their home in Vermillion, Ohio, after a four months' visit with relatives.

Mrs. Jane Reed was a shopper in Sikeston, Monday.

George Smart of New Madrid looked after business matters in Morehouse Tuesday.

W. O. Owen of St. Louis and Miss Vinita Edwards of New Madrid attended the senior baccalaureate exercises Sunday evening.

Rev. Wesley E. Denke accompanied by his wife and son, Dennis, motored down from Flat River Sunday. Mr. Denke delivered the baccalaureate sermon.

Wm. James was a business visitor in our county seat Tuesday.

A large number was present at the annual senior play Tuesday night. "The House of the Flashing Lights" was one of the best given here. Each character seemed suitable for the person who took the part.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Stanley of LaForge visited friends here Monday.

Mrs. Lillian Coleman is visiting Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Mitchell.

CHECK FORGER BOUND
OVER TO CIRCUIT COURT

New Madrid, May 10.—A preliminary hearing was held yesterday morning for Aubrey Lummert, who had been away for two years in Yakama, Wash., but who was returned to this County last Thursday under arrest for forging checks on the Sinclair Oil Company while working in Portageville. He was bound over to Circuit Court under a $5000 bond and awaits trial in the County jail here.

A preliminary hearing was held

Tuesday morning for Granville Hubber of this city, who held up nine different people Friday night between 12 and 1:00 o'clock. Among some of them were the Ice Plant here, taking a pistol, from Clay Dawson, Tom Nicholson, negro, taking $4; Margaret Dotson, Guy Graper and Laura Glover, $1 and a half, Cub Behr, 75 cents, Bobbie Haynes, 55 cents and two people who got off the bus near Hummel's Drug Store, causing them to throw their baggage and run. Hubber had formerly been in the penitentiary and he is now bound over to Circuit Court, unable to make bond and he has four different charges against him.

UTILITY SUES MURPHYSBORO FOR $26,000
ON CITY BILL

Murphysboro, Ill., May 9.—A suit was filed in Circuit Court by District Superintendent D. H. Sims for the Western United Gas & Electric Co. against the City of Murphysboro for $26,781.31.

The mandamus also asks terminating of a contract by which the city agree to pay the company $1,000 in November, 1932, and $2500 a year thereafter, to retire its obligations.

City Attorney Fletcher Lewis commented "The company is demanding in effect that Murphysboro pay over practically every cent of its visible tax income for this year for debts, and is attempting to make void its contract with the city in which terms of pay on its utility indebtedness were fixed. That Murphysboro did not meet the initial pay installment of this contract was because Murphysboro did not have available the funds required. If this mandamus prevails, then I doubt if Murphysboro will have left any funds for the meeting of its salary roll for police, firemen and street workers. One thing I know, it means that Murphysboro must set up her own electric plant. Only yesterday, the Mayor, members of the City Council, the City Treasurer, the City Clerk and myself went to Jackson, Sikeston and Poplar Bluff, Mo., for a study of municipally owned utilities."

PHILLIPS HOME AND COMMUNITY CLUB ENTERTAIN

New Madrid, May 8.—The Phillips Home and Community Club entertained the families of its members Saturday evening, April 29 at Phillips School Building, with a supper and a program which everyone seemed to enjoy. The program consisted of a reading by Mrs. Sallye Littell and Miss Agnes Littell, and vocal and instrumental selections by Dorothy Woods, Leonard Martin, Ed Wiley and Ed Waits. About forty people were present at this entertainment.

The Mississippi River's widest point, is not, as may seem reasonable, near the mouth. It is, in fact, closer to Chicago than it is to New Orleans. The widest part of the river, at bankful stage, is seventy-seven miles below Cairo, Ill., where it measures 14,420 feet from bank to bank—or nearly three miles, according to a survey made by the Mississippi River Commission.

SCOTT WORK ARMY ABOUT ENLISTED

Thursday representatives of the State emergency relief committee were in Benton conferring with Alden Pinney, county chairman, and the quotas for the various communities in the manner of registrants for the reforestation were worked out.

The proposition of selecting these fifty-one men were shifted from the county chairman and committee to local groups, which means that the men who go from the various points in Scott county will have been chosen by men from their own towns and vicinities, men who know their home conditions and men who know the circumstances. Previous to this need for recommendations, so that the results are practically the same as formerly. However, the local committees are the ones who really should do this selecting.

Kelso, New Hamburg, Dehlstadt and Benton did not enter into the choice of men and their quotas, while very small, were added to those for communities that had greater needs.

The new plan puts up the selection of the men to the following: Chaffee, Mayor Heyman and advisory group; Fornell, Dr. G. S. Cannon and Fred Gardner; Illinois, Fred Craig and J. A. Gearing; Commerce, Hugh Blackledge and H. M. Zaricor; Morley, C. D. M. Gup-ton and Tom Lett; Blodgett, Roy Green and Dell Swinney; Vanduser, R. M. Armstrong and W. B. Smith; Oran, F. C. Miller and Z. A. Heiserer; Skeston, Sayers Tanner F. E. Mount and Morse Lynn, Mr. Mount being County Red Cross chairman; Perkins, R. C. Willett and L. E. Moore. In each of these communities the chairman and secretary had local committees.

The forest army from Scott County is just about ready for certification to State headquarters in Jefferson City and the sending of these fifty-two men means that around $1300 a month will come back to the dependents at home. This will relieve the situation in all of the communities represented. At least $25 of each man's salary will come back to Scott County.

Just as soon as all papers are returned to the county office in Benton, the certificate of the chairman will be affixed and these requisition papers will be sent back to the local chairman. When the call comes, the men will be notified to appear for the white sheets, which are their admittance permits to the examination. All men MUST have their white sheets in order to get into the centralization point, where the physical tests will be made. From there the men will be sent to their work and their pay starts immediately. In the event of rejections, men will be held in reserve to make up the county's quota. Mr. Pinney will instruct the men where to go and when—Benton Democrat.

SPECIALTY MEN PRAISE SIKESTON

There were six special factory representatives engaged in demonstrating their products at the Lair Company Store Saturday. At the finish they were of one accord in saying the crowd was the largest they had ever witnessed in a city of this size.

Warren Lammert of the Lammert Furniture Company, St. Louis, in commenting on it, said: "I have been through thousands of people passing through this store in a day with no accidents, no complaints and everyone seemingly in a happy frame of mind. If I had not been present and seen the amazing crowd with my own eyes, I would have scarcely believed it could be true."

The irrepressible Scotty Whyte, also of The Lammert Company, was on his mettle the whole day. In fact, Scotty is always that way. While handing out Lammert souvenirs, he made his own private estimate of the congregation which ran something like this: "Of the sixteen thousand who came, there were at least fifteen thousand of the most beautiful women and girls ever assembled. Hollywood has nothing on Southeast Missouri. Even the men down there are not so bad looking. If Mrs. Whyte and Mr. Lammert offer no objections, I may transfer my headquarters to this live wire city. It was a great day for The Lammerts, The Lair Company and Yours Truly."

Ben M. Schmidt of the Majestic fame, smilingly put it this way: "This day surpasses any activity of the kind in which I ever had a part. The attendance was far in excess of the number I imagined would come and I got a 'kick' in distributing Majestic cook books and demonstrating refrigerators to these thousands of Mr. Lair's friends. The Majestic Company is sold on the way Skeston does things."

H. L. Stroude, of the Moore Bros. Stove company, edged in with a remark something like this: "You can take it from me that the entire show, crowd, parade, displays and entertainment would have done credit to a city of fifty thousand people. Skeston is one of the liveliest cities on my list. I would not have missed this show for anything."

Roy Gustine, of the Sellers Cabinet Company, expressed himself briefly but to the point: "It was one of the most interesting days I ever had in my life demonstrating Sellers Cabinets. A beautiful day, great numbers of people, interested spectators and a good store to back me up. No salesman could ask for more. Skeston certainly knows her stuff when it comes to drawing crowds and handling them."

L. L. Baker, who drives a specially constructed Florence display truck, was tickled pink with the day's results. Here's his estimate of the affair: "I have been making Southeast Missouri for years, but this has been the most active day I ever had in demonstrating my Company's line. Skeston business men are evidently alive to the fact that under present conditions very special efforts are necessary to draw trade from a distance and hold it. I am glad to have had a small part in the program of a wonderful day."

An unusually large Senior class this year necessitated the presentation of two senior plays in the place of the customary one, and so on the evenings of May 16 and 18 consecutively, the two plays, "Widow By Proxy" and "Cocktails or Tea" will be ready for production. A ticket to the two plays may be had at the regular price of one. A brief synopsis of the plays and the cast of characters follow:

"WIDOW BY PROXY"

This is the story of the talkative, mischievous, audacious Gloria Grey, who suddenly discovers that her finances are in an embarrassing position. While Gloria is humorously holding off an army of creditors, her friend, Dolores, falls heir to a small fortune, which she refused to accept because of a dislike for the relatives of her late husband, Jack Pennington. Gloria, however, persuades her to let her impersonate Dolores by posing as Jack's widow. Gloria succeeds in winning over Dolores' relatives and is about to marry Captain Pennington, of the Navy, with whom Dolores is supposed to divide the fortune, when Jack turns up alive and upsets the promising scheme of the fictitious widow. After many amusing complications, Dolores and Jack are united and Gloria and the Captain continue on their way to the altar.

The characters:
Gloria Grey, a bachelor maid.....Virginia Baker
Dolores Pennington, Gloria's protegee, a widow.....Mae Pepper
Gillikan, a dressmaker.....Lynnette Stallcup
Angelia Pennington, Dolores' aunt by marriage.....Olga Matthews
Saphronia Pennington, Dolores' aunt by marriage.....Olga Matthews
Capt. Pennington, U. S. N., the Misses Pennington's nephew.....Harry Young Jonathan, the Misses Pennington's nephew.....Lawrence Adams
Alexa Galloway, the Pennington's Attorney.....Sam Bowman
Robbins, the Pennington's servant.....Lewis Conley

"COCKTAILS OR TEA"

"Cocktails Or Tea" opens in an apartment in New York City with a group of artists, in various lines. Young Osgood is the idol of the women, most of whom are base and superficial. He has been left a fortune in Virginia, but must go there and live on the land a month. Miss Carol lends charm to a mode of life directly in contrast to Act I. A delightful whimsical play with clever lines and frequent dashes of poetic beauty. The philosophy of life and the Barrie-like atmosphere of these acts overcome the shock of the first act.

The cast:
Thomas Osgood, a young novelist.....Albert Mull
Judith Hunt, part of his public.....Neva Mae Taylor
Hugh Hunt, her husband.....Robert Jackson
Julia Leigh, almost on the stage.....Laura Jo Smith
Sylvia Warren, a bit of an artist.....Jenalee Sells
Reva Ellington, something or other in Wall Street.....Marjorie Mow
Maggie, an Irish Maid.....Henrietta Moore
Sewell Osgood, a gentleman of Virginia.....Bruce Lewis
Carol Osgood, his daughter.....Ruth Powell
Mr. Hickman, Mr. Osgood's attorney.....Gordon Maples
Sue, a negro servant.....Edith Frey

District Meeting of Federated Music Clubs

The Sixth Annual Conference of the Ninth District Missouri Federation of Music Clubs met at Kennett, Saturday, May 6th.

The meeting was held in the Methodist church with Miss Clara Drew Miller of Cape Girardeau, district president, presiding. After the roll call and the business session, the delegation was invited to the dining room, where a most delightful luncheon was served. During the meal, Mrs. Hallie Swank of Kennett gave the visitors a most warm welcome address. Mrs. H. E. Reuber of Skeston gave the response, which was as beautifully given that the Skeston members were quite proud of her. Mrs. C. L. Joslyn gave report of State meeting at Sedalia and Miss Miller gave a most interesting paper on "Music in Leisure".

In the afternoon a musical program was given by members of the various clubs. Mrs. Ralph Anderson opened the program with two organ numbers, which proved her skill as an organist and her ability to please an audience. The choruses from the different clubs proved to be a delight to all. Mrs. Leo Timmerstein of Bloomfield, with her rich soprano voice favored the audience with two selections which was most pleasing to everyone. Mrs. J. L. Priester of Charleston, with her rich mezzo soprano voice, also delighted the audience with two solos. Mrs. L. H. Van Amburg of Lutesville proved her ability as a violinist, by rendering selections in a very artistic manner. Mrs. L. B. Edwards of Kennett was piano soloist and delighted the audience with two selections.

The climax of the program was reached when all the Choral Clubs merged into one big choral ensemble with 75 or more voices in the group. Under the able leadership of Mrs. Harry Shaw, District Choral director, three numbers were delightfully rendered.

Mrs. C. L. Joslyn of Charleston was chosen president of the district to succeed Miss Clara Drew Miller of Cape Girardeau. Mrs. H. E. Reuber of Skeston was re-elected secretary; Mrs. Harry Shaw of Farmington, District Choral Director and Mrs. Joe Bowman of Skeston, District Extension Chairman.

At the close of the session, Mrs. E. H. Orear of Skeston in a very beautiful and touching manner presented Miss Miller, re-organizing president of the clubs of the district in appreciation of her services as president of the District for the past seven years. The Club adjourned to meet at Skeston next May, 1934.

Those from Skeston who attended the meeting were:
Mrs. E. H. Orear, Mrs. Ralph F. Anderson, Mrs. J. E. Hamby, Mrs. H. E. Reuber, Mrs. X. Caverno, Miss Ellen Caverno, Mrs. Milton Mann, Mrs. S. L. Hunter, Miss Evelyn Hunter, Mrs. Joe Bowman, Mrs. W. E. Hollingsworth and Mrs. T. B. Allen of Skeston.

Mr. and Mrs. King had been to Illinois on a visit and were returning to Memphis, going south on Highway 61. Mr. Frankle was also going south, and after passing the car driven by Mr. and Mrs. King, not noticing the car so near or giving a signal, started to turn off Highway 61 on the road entering New Madrid. When King saw the only way to avoid hitting the car would be to take the ditch, which he did without touching the car driven by Frankle. Mr. and Mrs. King were rushed to New Madrid, where they were given

Burglar Has Change of Heart

Runnemed, N. J., May 8.—Here's a burglar who came to rob but remained to pay.
In the early hours of the morning, he "jimmied" his way into the home of Harry McMichael, an unemployed mechanic.

A sight that met his eye in the kitchen, drove all thought of his original purpose from his mind, however, for on the floor lay McMichael's four children—asleep.

McMichael later found where the rear door had been forced but he also found a note on the kitchen table.

"I saw the little tykes", it read, "So I'll give you a break". Attached to the note was a $1 bill.

medical aid by Dr. Wm. O'Bannon.

It was found that Mrs. King had one broken rib, cuts around one eye, on her forehead and over her limbs and several minor bruises, but not seriously hurt. Mr. King only had one cut over his forehead and bruises. Their car, which was a Chevrolet, was taken to LaFont's garage in Portageville, where it was found that the car had a damage of $100. Wenz was sent to their son in Memphis, who is a dentist there, about the accident and he came to New Madrid after them in a Packard, where Mrs. King was to be given further aid in a hospital there.

NEW ELECTRIC COMPANY OPEN ON CENTER STREET

A new electric company known as the Electric Service Company, has been formed by James Dowdy and Paul Rankin, and is located on Center Street in the room formerly occupied by Glover's Grocery. The new company is equipped to offer a complete electric and radio service, and as Mr. Dowdy has been in business in Skeston before, the service he offers is well known as first class. Read their advertisement in this issue.

RHODE ISLAND THIRD STATE TO VOTE WET

Providence, May 8.—Rhode Island officially voted to repeal the Eighteenth Amendment this afternoon by a unanimous vote of 31 delegates elected to a constitutional convention last Monday.

The delegates voted approval of and signed individually the resolution ratifying the Eighteenth Amendment repeal, and instructed convention officers to certify the action of the convention to the secretary of State.

Rhode Island's approval of repeal was thus added to those of Wisconsin and Michigan.

LIONS AND C. OF C. TO SPONSOR LOCAL BAND

The regular mid-week luncheon of the Lions Club was held Wednesday at Hotel Marshall, and the business meeting conducted. It was decided at the meeting that the Lions, in connection with the Chamber of Commerce, would sponsor the local band, known as Milburn Arbough's band, and that each month certain appropriations would be made to take care of its music and any other necessary accessories.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETING

The Woman's Club held a very interesting meeting Tuesday afternoon when Mesdames Arch Russell, Calvin Greer, C. C. White and L. R. Burns gave a splendid report of the Biennial of the Woman's Federate Club meeting held in St. Louis last week. The next and last meeting of the Club will be held at the home of the president, Mrs. Arch Russell and all members should make an effort to be present.

Mrs. C. A. Cook, the librarian, reported over 500 books circulated during the month of April. A number of new books have been placed in the library and any family in Skeston who does not hold a membership is cordially invited to do so. The membership cost $1.00 per year.

The library is open three afternoons a week.

The Poplar Bluff Mardi Gras May 20

The Poplar Bluff Mardi Gras on May 20 will attract the largest crowd in the history of Poplar Bluff, according to Guy Cahill, general chairman of the association sponsoring this program.

A parade of floats, decorated automobiles, clowns, a green dragon and several bands are scheduled to start the day's program at 10 a. m. At that time, in line with a proclamation by Mayor W. A. Sanner, whistles of all mills in the city will be blown designating the opening of the festivities.

The program will include activities by the booster clubs of Missouri, Illinois and Memphis divisions of the Missouri Pacific Railroad Company. It is predicted that

Scott County Mill Co. Goodrich Tire Dealer

Announcement is made by Scott County Mill Co., Skeston, that it has become a dealer for the nationally known line of tires and tubes manufactured by the B. F. Goodrich Company, Akron, Ohio.

It will feature as part of its service to customers the famous Goodrich Safety Silvertown and the Goodrich Cavalier, two tires which have won their reputations for safety and service by usage on millions of American automobiles. Goodrich, now in its 63rd year of existence, has for many years maintained the highest standards of safety in tire construction.

Its latest contribution to the war against highway accidents is an announcement of the new Golden Ply

It is strictly against the law to fire a gun within the city limits; it is strictly against the law to kill song birds. Several boys in this city own 22 calibre rifles and have been shooting at birds and killing some. And, again, somebody is likely to be badly hurt by this promiscuous shooting. Parents should wrap these rifles around a tree, or be prepared to pay a fine for sonny, or, perhaps a surgeon's bill.

The editor was among a number of white people who attended the fair at the colored school in Sunset Addition Tuesday forenoon, and enjoyed the program very much. Nine of the ten colored schools of Scott County were represented and the handiwork of both boys and girls was an agreeable surprise, especially were the pretty dresses, made, worn and modeled by the girls. We are giving considerable space to our colored folks this time, and are glad of the opportunity to do so, for the line of education now being given them makes them useful citizens in any community. We were mighty proud of a silk handkerchief with our initial embroidered in the corner, presented by the Skeston school.

It has come to our attention that some talk of garnisheeing wages of employees of the shoe factory for accounts past due. This would be unfortunate to say the least. These people have worked little for the past two months and have to eat. It has been a hard matter to procure the absolute necessities of life without a chance to pay rent, pay installments, or pay anything else, so for goodness sakes, have a heart and do not further embarrass factory workers who would pay if they could. Give them a chance. Every merchant and every landlord in Skeston knows how little money these folks have received in the past two months or longer. Use the Golden Rule of common sense.

The Standard is called upon to say what to do about Beauty Shop operators who do not pay license to operate. This is a question for the city officials to decide. If they do not pay, as others, they should not be permitted to operate.

Personally, we feel much disappointed that the school board refused permission to use the High School gymnasium for an evening entertainment of our guests. It is the only suitable building in the city for such an affair and the building would still stand. The committee in charge of entertainment will be hard put to finance their program when this source of revenue is cut off. Being the Center of Creation in Southeast Missouri, Skeston must have an auditorium in which to entertain conventions who visit our city.

The local editor of the Kennett Democrat tells his readers in a two column article of his meeting up with "the law" in St. Louis County as he was passing through a spot by the road side known as South Afton. It cost him $8.20 for court costs. No fine.

From advertisements carried in papers and magazines, Lifebuoy Soap has been the greatest blessing of the day toward bringing together sweethearts who were a little distant at the start. It was all caused by "b. o."

A wag has suggested that perhaps the street dance of last Saturday night was sponsored by the International Shoe Company in order to wear out the shoes of those participating. Not a bad idea at that.

If for no other reason International Shoe Day was a wonderful thing for Skeston and trade territory, it caused folks to forget their troubles for the time being. It has been such a long time since there was a place where all could meet on an equal footing that this occasion brought out everybody to have one day of recreation at practically no cost. We trust it will bring ample returns to all who sponsored the big day.

While we have been called upon to help regulate about everything in the city, the latest is to inquire if private boarding houses have paid license to cater to transients as well as local patrons. We don't know. See the City Attorney.

BILLY TERRELL'S SHOW DRAWING GOOD CROWDS

Billy Terrell's Stock Company and Girl Revue, which has been showing here this week under the auspices of the American Legion, has been drawing good crowds. Friday and Saturday nights are their feature nights and after the regular show Saturday night, there will be a 11 o'clock or midnight show which is the feature event of the week.

PERTINENT PARAGRAPHS FROM THE PARIS APPEAL

A lot of outrages have been perpetrated by mobs in this country. We can recall none, however, that was more infamous than the action of those Iowa farmers who dragged a judge from the bench and subjected him to indignities from which a murderer would be immune in that State. The guilty parties, especially those leaders who were directly responsible for that march on a court of law, should be promptly convicted and given long terms in the penitentiary.

Mrs. Roosevelt certainly is a lovely woman. A lovely woman is one who is just as gracious to a commoner character as to an aristocrat who has money, and who does not limit her graciousness to a favored few. Last week, for instance, a large delegation of New England fisher folk went to Washington to see if the president could do something for their depressed industry. Mrs. Roosevelt had them as guests in the White House, taking them for a personally conducted inspection of that historic building. The men had the time of their lives. The first lady of the land said it was one of the most delightful evenings she had spent in Washington. To the nation at large it is refreshing to see the court etiquette which characterized the Hoover and Coolidge administrations give way to real American home customs in the White House. Mr. Roosevelt, too, goes out on the porch to meet his guests and accompany them into his house.

Monroe County school teachers should revolt against requirements of the State department, or any other department, for attendance at summer schools until the expense incident to such work is justified by the salaries they receive. Some rural teachers in this locality will get only $30 a month next term. Many will be limited to $40 a month. Very few will get as much as $50. Teachers in town schools will be on starvation wages, considering living expenses and the large sums they have spent at college or university in fitting themselves for their profession. Those who have a reasonable amount of credits from State training schools should be exempted by local boards from making further sacrifices until patrons are able or willing to pay salaries which justify the expense incident to further preparation. The State has no right to demand first-class qualifications when it does nothing to protect teachers of that type from such salaries as they are now forced to accept. Those who already have a reasonable amount of credits will be justified in declaring a moratorium on summer school expense until the State provides salary standards as well as teaching standards.

The classic Greek dance, as put on by imaginative young women of classic build, is another thing which contributes to the gaiety of the nation. It is a combination of hop, skip and jump—hopping in to the air for imaginary butterflies, skipping through imaginary fields of fragrant flowers, jumping

HERE'S HOW—WITH PINEAPPLE!

Another food innovation—the iced pineapple cup, made from crushed canned pineapple or tidbits—has been added to the housewife's list of cooling afternoon refreshments.

It made its appearance recently at winter resort beaches in the wake of announcements of nutritional studies which revealed canned pineapple as a valuable source of vitamins A, B and C and five essential minerals. In addition, it is being served as a breakfast fruit and as an appetizer or dessert at dinners. Eaten regularly, the dietetic studies showed the fruit also aids digestion and in the prevention and correction of acidosis and nutritional anemia.

Teaching Hawaii about pineapple might seem like carrying coals to Newcastle. But after all, it took America to give the hula dance, the ukulele and the beach at Waikiki an international reputation.

THIRD ANNUAL NEGRO SCHOOL FAIR FOR SCOTT COUNTY

by Miss L. A. Myers, Jeanes Supervisor for Scott County

For three years the negro school children have come to Sikeston for this occasion from all parts of Scott County, where the negro school is a consolidated district that school board will send the negro children here in a school bus. This year the following school boards did this: Benton, Commerce, Diehlstadt and Oran.

This year a County chorus was organized. Nine schools sang the same thing in the tune and at the same time. Three community songs and three negro spirituals were given. The program was too full for any more songs. Another year we are planning to have a special day for a County chorus.

A male quartette was started in the Sikeston school about two months ago. They sang twelve numbers at different times during the day.

A large number of dresses made especially to encourage the school girls to make their own dresses from prints and other inexpensive wash material.

A school dress show was given. A large number of dresses were worn by the girls from over the County. No dress was worn that cost over 50 cents.

The Sikeston school girls made the dress that the Jeanes Supervisor or Miss L. A. Myers wore. The cost of it was a little more because she continues to grow larger. Six yards of voile, 25c per yard, 25c for hemstitching. They also made three more print dresses for her at a very small cost.

The industrial exhibit for the girls included pillow cases, tea towels, baby clothes, luncheon sets, vanity sets, handkerchiefs, sofa pillows (small and large), bath mats, underwear and dresses. The work was done by hand and by machine. In several of the schools, the teacher rented a sewing machine and carried it to her school.

In other cases, the parents sent their machines to the school for the teacher and pupils to use. The boys had a small amount of woodwork from over the county.

This was the first year that the boys in the Sikeston school had received instructions in wood work. W. S. Hunt has charge of this work. There were about thirty pieces of wood work. If they are given a chance another year, their exhibit will be better because they are very anxious to learn to use tools. Some of the work included: End tables, one writing desk, magazine racks, tie holders, one floor lamp, (the girls made the shade), two porch swings and a large number of ironing boards.

No cooking was exhibited because there was no place to put it. The girls in the Sikeston school are taught to cook plain foods and cakes, pies, etc. Things that the average family can have in their homes. In many cases the girls do most of the cooking for the family, when they are at home. They are also taught to can fruits and vegetables.

R. L. Furry, County Agent, was down from Benton, and gave 4-H Club achievement pins to members in the Clothing Club I. Two Clubs in the Sikeston school, Sand Prairie, Crowder, Benton and Commerce. The girls from the Buggy school earned their pins but for some reason were not here to receive them. The Chaney, Diehlstadt and a Health Club at Keifer have not gotten their work straight but they are planning to this month.

A Club meeting was given by the Poultry Club at Commerce. It was to demonstrate how the boys carry on their 4-H Club work.

Mr. Furry made several pictures of the exhibit and the Clubs. This year Scott County has had twenty-five different 4-H Clubs. Miss L. A. Myers, Jeanes Supervisor, has been working with Mr. Furry helping with this work.

Mr. Blanton, the editor of The Sikeston Standard, was down. He brought several ladies, and he made a very interesting talk. County Supt. O. F. Anderson had charge of the program, when the dress contest started until it closed.

Two of the best speeches were made by out-of-town people. Assistant State Superintendent O. J. Sanford of Jefferson City, Missouri State Department of Public Schools, talked about the condition of negro education in Missouri and how the Jeanes work had been started in four Counties in Southeast Missouri.

The best treat of the day was a surprise to have Hon. B. C. Caldwell from Charlottesville, Va., to visit us again. He is the ex-field agent for the Jeanes and Slater Funds. Mr. Caldwell has helped negro education all over the Southern States and was field agent for over 30 years. He worked with Dr. J. H. Dillard, the ex-president of the Jeanes and Slater Funds. These are the men that have been responsible for the Ministers' Institute in Southeast Missouri, for three years. It was worth a great deal to have the privilege of hearing him, especially when we did not know that he was near Sikeston or Missouri.

The Jeanes Fund was started by a little Quaker lady weighing about 90 pounds, in Pennsylvania. She gave $1,000,000 to be used for negro education in the rural schools in the South. She said that the schools in towns would be taken care of, but the boys and girls in the small rural schools did not have a chance. Poor teachers, short school terms and poor buildings were all that received. She wanted to help them and did. They are being taught to use their hands as well as to get the subject matter from their books. Dr. J. H. Dillard was the first president of the Jeanes Fund and now there are over 325 Jeanes Supervisors in fifteen Southern States.

A Jeanes teacher will work all over the country and encourage the teachers in the schools over the County in which she lives. Dr. Arthur D. Wright is president of these funds now. The Slater Fund is also a $1,000,000 and was given to aid in training negro teachers. As we all know, the Julius Rosenwald Fund helps to build schools for negroes. There are over 5000 of these buildings. Hon. S. L. Smith has charge of this work.

The only thing that the people wanted was the Ministers' Institute. Dr. J. H. Dillard has charge of this and was out of the United States this spring. Miss Myers was finally able to get Lincoln University to send a speaker down to talk to the parents Tuesday evening, but they said that every negro minister must write to Dr. Dillard, asking for this meeting to come to Scott County again. When adults are so very anxious to learn it is a very good sign and they should be taught.

Several of the people from the white race came to see the exhibit during the day. Some were early enough to hear the program, others came to see the industrial exhibit and to hear the quartette sing. In the evening, outdoor games were enjoyed between the schools over the County.

Another year a better program is being planned by Miss Myers.

Liver Sufferers Amazed At Results Obtained From Remarkable New Treatment

Thousands Reporting Sargon Soft Mass Pills Have Brought Them Lasting Relief From Constipation—Sour Stomach—Sick Headaches—Gas—Bad Breath—Coated Tongue—Nervousness and Dizzy Spells After Everything Else Had Failed.

If Your Liver Is Not Performing Its Proper Functions—Sickness—Suffering and Ill Health Are the Inevitable Result.

Science Has Proved That Salts, Calomel, Mineral Waters, Oils, Laxative Pills, Herb Teas or Extracts Have No Effect Whatever on the Liver or Its Production of Bile.

Unless you have tried Sargon Soft Mass Pills you can have no idea of the effects produced by this natural cleansing of your liver and bowels. It makes you feel years younger, stronger, healthier and happier. It brings back life and color to faded eyes and cheeks, restores the appetite and sound digestion—gives you a new outlook on life itself.

Bile is nature's laxative and your stomach and bowels require at least one quart of fresh bile every day to keep them clean, pure, free from fermentation, gas and disease germs.

When your liver becomes sluggish the bile stagnates and stops flowing freely. The contents of your bowels become the breeding place for germs and poisons; your food does not digest—it just ferments and decays in the bowels. The blood absorbs these poisons and you suffer from constipation, nervousness and sour stomach.

Sargon Soft Mass Pills remove the cause of this condition in nature's way. They are not like any other medicine you have ever taken. They are so gentle, thorough and natural in their action there is nothing about them to remind you that you have ever taken a medicine, and most remarkable of all you gradually reduce the dose until you no longer require a laxative of any kind.

Insist on genuine Sargon Soft Mass Pills. Don't be misled. There are only two generally recognized substances which will actually stimulate a torpid or sluggish liver to cleanse and purify itself by increasing its production of bile. Sargon Soft Mass Pills contain both of these substances and no other advertised medicine on the American market today does contain them.

Only 60c for a full 30-day treatment. At your druggist, or write G. F. Wills, Inc., Atlanta, Ga.—(adv.)

PUCKETT-CLAYTON

Announcement has recently been made of the marriage of Miss Lourie Clayton, member of Morehouse high school faculty to Marshall J. Puckett, of Fairfield, Ill., which occurred Saturday, April 29, at Caruthersville.

Mrs. Puckett is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Clayton of Crenshaw, Miss., and is a niece of S. T. Clayton, Superintendent of the Morehouse High School. Mr. Puckett is the manager of the southern division of the Chicago Wood Piling & Lumber Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Puckett will make their home in Fairfield, Ill., and Jackson, Tenn.

NEWS OF MATTHEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Commodore York and little son, Robert, and Wallace DeWitt visited friends and relatives in Gideon last Saturday.

Miss Lizzie Hastings is visiting Miss Elva Settles this week, at Matthews.

Mr. and Mrs. Marice Bailey entertained a number of guests Sunday with a dinner.

Mrs. Harry Galloway shopped in Sikeston last Wednesday.

John Allie was the Sunday guest of Miss Alfreda Kem.

Rev. Bill Cravens filled his regular appointment at the Little Vine church Sunday morning and Sunday night.

Mrs. Mary Batson and Miss Beatrice Gade were Thursday afternoon visitors of Miss Zelpha De Witt.

Sherman Sutton and D. O. Miller of Risco were visitors of John Allie.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. DeWitt spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Young.

Loran Vaughn of Matthews was a Sunday visitor of Howard Troxell.

The Ladies' Aid will meet with Mrs. Frye Thursday afternoon. They will elect a new president and also a secretary.

Mrs. Mary York is visiting her son, Doylan York this week.

Jim Hinkle spent the past week-end with relatives in Sikeston.

The old brass bed need not stay an eye sore in this enlightened age. Apply two coats of flat cream paint and when thoroughly dry cover with walnut stain. It will change the whole atmosphere of the bedroom.

If planning to go away soon, start saving the cardboard that come home in hubby's shirts from the laundry. These slipped into frocks and blouses, form a splendid protection against wrinkles.

NEW MADRID COUNTY SCHOOL NOTES

A big rally will be staged at the New Madrid high school building next Monday morning and we expect a good turnout of business men and school supporters. This is a part of the State-wide move to persuade Governor Park to call a special session of the legislature to formulate a sales tax to give financial help to our schools which are facing starvation.

At this meeting we expect to work out a practical plan to get an expression of the sentiment of the people. Those who cannot be present should sit down and write a personal letter to Governor Park urging him to take action and save our schools.

With the present outlook some of our schools will be able to pay only $30 per month for teachers next year. And we know of schools in other counties which have employed teachers for as low as $20 per month. People must not sit still or quibble over details while such outrageous conditions exist.

Unless something is done many of our high school districts are going to be forced to choose between eliminating their high schools or starving their grades in order to keep the high school going.

The following letter has been sent out to school boards and business leaders for distribution and publicity:

A State-wide drive is being made to acquaint the people with our educational crisis and a conference will be held in each county to prepare a militant plan of action. Committees are to be made arrangements for these conferences and in this county the State department has imposed this duty on the County Superintendent and Supt. G. D. Englehart.

We have decided to hold the New Madrid County Conference on Monday, May 15, 9:30 a. m. at New Madrid and desire that at least one member of each school board be present. We also highly desire that business men and officials of Chambers of Commerce, Parent-Teachers Associations, and other organizations be present.

We truly hope that the citizens of New Madrid County take vigorous action in urging Governor Park to call a special session of the legislature this summer to give relief to our schools and prevent the collapse of many.

We should rally at this meeting and convince the leaders of the State that we are ready to fight to the last ditch rather than to let our schools suffer or to completely wreck our property tax system by imposing heavier property taxes in a futile effort to bolster up school finances.

Our property tax levied for school purposes should be reduced 50 per cent and our schools should be run by income tax, sales tax, and other indirect taxes. If the people of the State will fight consistently they will get what they want. The State-wide move now seems to be centered on a sales tax.

In one district this year only $24 in taxes was collected for the Teacher's Fund on a levy of 40c, and only $57 in another. Such conditions are truly alarming. The wealth of the State, wherever it is, should educate the children of the State, wherever they are.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL FROM CANALOU

(By Ethel Wright)

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Powers, Mrs. Ben Muffett and son, Ernest, of East Chicago, arrived Friday for a short visit with Ernest Muffett's family and other relatives and friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Huffstetler of Blytheville, Ark., were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Percy.

Canalou was well represented at the International Shoe Factory Day at Sikeston Saturday.

Mrs. Geraldine Young and Mrs. F. R. Vaughn spent the week-end at Mrs. Vaughn's home in Bernie.

pongee handkerchiefs, neatly constructed print dresses, pajamas, voile gowns hemstitched and embroidered, various articles of underclothing, quilts, yo-yo pillow tops and baby layette, shoes and caps were among the things exhibited. But not only are the girls trained, but the boys have been receiving training from Mr. Hunt in manual training. Some of their work was also exhibited including magazine racks, end tables, tie racks and a floor lamp, the shade of which was made by the girls.

Sikeston should, indeed, be proud of the colored race, in our city, who are so eager to have their children educated and so willing to co-operate to make themselves better citizens.

The Canalou schools will close Friday, May 12. Several of the grade teachers are planning to take their pupils on a picnic that day. The high school commencement exercises will be held Thursday night. Supt. Roy V. Ellise of Sikeston is to deliver the commencement address.

Miss Appalone Taul, Don Alexander, Byron Spencer, Clifton Thurman and Owen Taul attended the baccalaureate sermon at Morehouse Sunday evening.

Mrs. J. W. Vaughn and brother, H. Stansfield, were Sunday guests of Mrs. Lumsden's son, Charles Lumsden and family of Matthews. They also attended the baccalaureate services there Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Baughn and twins, of Cooter, visited relatives here Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Coppage and Mrs. P. L. McLaurin shopped in Sikeston, Tuesday.

The B. Y. P. U. Convention for this district was held here Sunday afternoon. The building here was filled to overflowing. A large crowd was present from Sikeston and Morehouse. Canalou had the largest attendance and received the attendance banner.

Miss Maude Adams of Sikeston spent the week-end with friends here. She assisted with the preparation for the Junior-Senior banquet.

35 HAVE DIVED TO DEATH INTO JAPANESE VOLCANO

London, May 9.—Since January, thirty-five persons have dived into the smoking crater of Mount Mihara, a volcano on an island off side Tokio Bay, the Tokio correspondent of the Daily Mail reported today. The volcano was exercising a strange lure, the dispatch said.

Sunday six men sprang into the smoking abyss. The police prevented fifteen men and five women from doing likewise. They said that in three months they saved 150 lives by holding victims of the lure away from the crater's rim.

The appointment of Dr. William J. Thompkins of Kansas City as a member of the board of curators of Lincoln University at Jefferson City, will meet with wide approval in negro educational and Democratic circles in Missouri. Dr. Thompkins has long been active in Democratic politics in Kansas City and is now president of the Missouri Negro Democratic Association. He is also the editor of the Kansas City American, probably the best known negro newspaper in the middle west, and in the capacity of editor has rendered his party valuable assistance in past campaigns. Dr. Thompkins is largely responsible for the negro university securing an appropriation from the State legislature which will make it possible for it to become a grade "A" institution, as was first pledged by the late Francis M. Wilson and later by Governor Park.

Living beyond their means is one of the many causes of bankruptcies among wage-earning consumers of the United States, it is indicated by a recent study conducted by the Commerce Department, the results of which were published in a report entitled "Causes of Bankruptcies Among Consumers". This, the first intensive study of a large number of cases of consumer bankruptcies, is designed to bring to light the basic causes of these failures and provide facts which will be of assistance in reducing the number of bankruptcies among consumers. Next to extravagance as a source of consumer insolvency, evasion of judgment debts was found to be the cause most frequently leading to the bankruptcy courts. This cause accounted for 15.4 per cent of all the defaults studied. Avoidance of liabilities on foreclosed real estate formed the motive for seeking relief thru bankruptcy in 13.5 per cent of the cases surveyed.

The new Indian wheat crop just harvested is only about sufficient for local needs, according to the Grain Market News Service of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Production is placed at 340,480,000 bushels last year and 391,000,000 the record harvest of 1931. The short crop this year is attributed mainly to the inadequate supply of moisture at seeding time, which resulted in a smaller acreage, and also to the failure of the winter rains which in some seasons largely offset an unfavorable monsoon. Exports of Indian wheat during recent years have been of little importance, despite some relatively large harvests. Even from the record harvest in 1931, exports totaled only 4,000,000 bushels.

A stunt designed to call the attention of consumers to window displays in local stores is described in the Merchants Journal of Topeka, Kansas. A small daily paper in Oklahoma ran a daily story in the paper about the best looking show window in town on that date. The feature was played up on the front page every day for a month, so that it was possible for almost every store in town to get a write-up if it would take the trouble to put in one especially attractive window decoration.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL FROM MORLEY

(By Mrs. C. A. Stallings)

Rikki Leslie, third son of L. C. Leslie, left Friday for California, after a visit of nearly three months here with relatives and friends. He has made his home in California since his graduation from high school two years ago.

Mrs. R. H. Leslie went to St. Louis Tuesday, where she attended the State Biennial of Federated Clubs a few days and later visited her son, Carle, who is employed there.

Miss Virginia Eachus of Benton came down Saturday for a week-end visit with Maxine Daugherty.

Mrs. L. L. Hunter was a guest of her sister, Mrs. T. V. Miller and Mrs. W. A. Anthony, of Sikeston, Thursday.

Rev. and Mrs. Harry A. Showmaker of St. Louis visited among friends here Monday afternoon. Rev. Showmaker was pastor of the Methodist church here several years ago.

Jesse Walton made a business trip to East St. Louis, the first of the week.

Mrs. Lillie Cooksey of Kansas City was a guest of Mrs. Phoebe Black last week. Mrs. Cooksey is a former resident of this place as well as other Scott County towns.

Mrs. M. D. Thacker was hostess to the McMullin Missionary Society at an all day quilting last Thursday. Other guests were Messdames Phoebe Black, Tillie Cooksey, Burnett Vaughn, Stevens and Grant of Oran.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Williams and family of Chaffee were visitors at the home of Mrs. T. L. Anderson Thursday morning.

Several workmen were busy several days last week loading out road machinery which was stored here by the Harrison Construction Co., after the completion of highway 61 two years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. James Joyce of Vanduser were guests at the U. A. Emerson home, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris Foster and family and Miss Maxine Daugherty were rock hunting and picnicking near Fredericktown, Sunday.

H. F. Emerson and Joyce Emerson were business visitors in St. Louis, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. U. A. Emerson are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, who arrived May 9. There are three brothers in the home to welcome the little lady.

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Harris and family, Rev. and Mrs. E. C. Ellis daughter, Mrs. Leonard Ford, Jr.,

and daughter, Eloise Stallings, Mary Agnes Vaughn and C. D. Harris, Jr., were among the number who were at Vanduser Sunday night for the baccalaureate sermon. It was delivered by Rev. T. G. Craft of Parma, who was M. E. pastor here.

Mrs. M. Crow went to Perry County Saturday to visit relatives. She spent the winter here with her daughter, Mrs. R. A. Moyers.

The baccalaureate sermon for the Morley high school will be given Sunday at 11 o'clock at the Baptist church by Rev. J. W. Jeffries.

A Mother's Day program will be presented at the evening service at the Baptist church Sunday, after which the pastor will give a message on the same subject.

The rapidly changing price level in recent years, changing marketing conditions and other factors, make it difficult to ascertain the net effect of trucking fruits and vegetables on price, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Truckmen-peddlers have unquestionably increased market outlets in many instances by trucking into sections which would not otherwise have been supplied to any considerable degree. Truck marketing has probably resulted in a larger proportion of low-grade or ungraded fruits and vegetables being placed on the markets, but it has also tended to improve the condition of some products, particularly as to freshness and desirable stage of maturity. As to price, grocers have often obtained from truckers higher prices than were being offered by car-lot shippers.

JUST 46 POUNDS OF FAT GONE

FEELS 20 YEARS YOUNGER

"I surely can recommend Kruschen Salts. I reduced from 156 to 110 lbs., my natural weight and I feel 20 years younger. A pinch a day, keeps the fat away." Mrs. Vale Walter, Seattle, Washington (Dec. 30, 1932).

Once a day take Kruschen Salts—one half teaspoonful in a glass of hot water first thing every morning. Besides losing ugly fat SAFELY you'll gain in health and physical attractiveness—constipation, gas and acidity will cease to bother—you'll feel younger—more active—full of ambition—clear skin—sparkling eyes.

A jar that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle at any drug store in the world—but demand and get Kruschen and if one bottle doesn't joyfully satisfy you—money back—6

If you have gotten the oven too hot for the food you wish to put into it, place a small pan of cold water in the bottom of the oven. It will cause the temperature to drop immediately.

To prevent the little oil heater from rusting while it is stored away during the summer, take equal parts of linseed oil, turpentine and liquid stove blacking and apply with a paint brush. Let dry thoroughly, then apply a second coat. Any nickel sections, grease thoroughly with lard or petroleum ointment.

Kitchen-Cup-lets

by Della Taylor

There's a hunger of the mind Which is of a different kind— Putting flowers in a bowl Will do much to feed your soul.

Feeding our bodies is probably one of the most important things in life because we have to eat merely to exist, don't we? However, there is another hunger which, to me, is almost as important, and that is the hunger for beauty.

Most of us feel that we have to have beauty in our homes, and the loveliest way I know of accomplishing this is to have flowers and growing plants to look at. Emerson in speaking of flowers once said, "A ray of beauty outvalues all the utilities of the world." And it is really almost a necessity for us to have beauty, of one form or another, in our lives.

Even in these days when the great army of the new-poor keeps increasing, I manage somehow to include flowers in my budget. This really isn't so extravagant as it sounds, since I do without something else in order to have flowers in the center of the table. It is really possible to do it very economically, and I would like to offer you the following suggestions.

Go to an inexpensive florist, first of all. Tell him that you will probably be getting flowers from him once or twice a week, but that you do not want to pay more than a certain amount—say, $1.00 a time. Explain to him that you will be perfectly willing to take whatever flowers he has the most of that day, provided they are fresh. In this way he can afford to sell you flowers that should be more expensive because he might otherwise not be able to sell all of them.

If you do this you can always have fresh flowers, and they should never cost more than a dollar a week. However, if you do not feel that you can do this, here is another suggestion. I always do it myself, and it will not cost more than fifteen or twenty cents a week.

First of all you will have to have enough pebbles to fill three low bowls. Buy about six narcissus bulbs. Be sure to select ones that have started to sprout. Plant these in one of your bowls, using the pebbles instead of earth. Remember to cover them with fresh water once a day. In about a week, plant the second bowl in the same way. A week later, plant the third. It will take about three weeks for your first bowl to bloom and the blooms should last for about a week. By the time they fade, your second bowl will be in bloom. In this way, you will have an endless chain of dainty, fragrant narcissus.

The following are a few suggestions which should help to prolong the life of cut flowers:

1. Place withered flowers in water the entire length of their stems and leave them there for several hours. This will often revive flowers which look almost hopeless.
2. Cut the tips of stems (in a half-vertical cut) while under water. This allows the stem to absorb the water immediately instead of becoming partially dried as it does if exposed to the air for even an instant.
3. In cutting poppies, which ordinarily wilt almost before they are picked, try searing the stem with a match. If you do this immediately, it will enable you to keep them in water for several days.
4. To keep flowers fresh place a piece of charcoal, camphor or aspirin tablet in the water. Any one of these will do the trick, and you might try a little rosemary spray of ammonia.

A very pretty touch is to place a geranium leaf in the water of each finger bowl. By the next time you have guests and see how enthusiastic everyone is about the lovely fragrance these leaves impart when crushed.

Scott County Farm Club News

The Ant Hill Supper Club in the Bleda District of which Miss Helen Diebold is leader, gave a supper to their parents Sunday night, serving an excellent supper, games were played by both old and young. This club plans on holding its achievement program in about two weeks. Members of the Club are:

Viola Pobst, Cecelia Gosche, Evelyn Seimann, Christine Hahn, Marcella Diebold, Freda LeGrand and Isabelle Gosche.

Those present at the supper were:

Mr. and Mrs. George Gosche and family, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hahn and daughter, Christine, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo LeGrand, Frank LeGrand and daughters, Mary and Freda, Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Diebold and daughters, Frances, Marcella and Helen, Viola Pobst, Evelyn Seimann, Leon Diebold, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Furry and son, Alva Frank.

Health Clubs

Two Health and First Aid 4-H Clubs have their achievement program. The Diebold school, of which John Ludwig was the leader, had a 100 per cent completion of its members, who were as follows: Lester Raines, Vernedia Raines, Jeanette Bles, Marjorie Ludwig, Bernice Raines, Theresa Tucker, Margaret Bles, Christine Weissmuller.

The Club organized in the Blodgett school with Miss Caroline Stebbins as leader, held its achievement program in the high school and the following members made the completion and received achievement pins from County Extension Agent Furry.

Ruby Mae Holder, Venita Masterson, Gladys Carr, Marjorie Boardman, Gladys Whitt, Verdie James, Helen King, Wanda Mae Smith, Loretta Levan, Madeline Mackley, Ruby Murrell, Thelma Murrell, Louise Seimann, Evelyn Fearnan and Deloris Shell.

Other Clubs which will complete their health work and hold achievement programs within the next two weeks are the Kelso Health and First Aid Club, with Miss Lorene Scheeter as leader and two clubs in the Ansell school with Misses Aurabella Dannumuller and Eulah Thompson as leaders.

A series of demonstrations on garden and truck crop insect control will be given by County Extension Agent R. L. Furry and R. L. Lovvorn of the State Emergency Relief Committee in Scott County, in the next few days. The purpose of these meetings is to give practical demonstrations on the use of dusts and sprays for various garden insects. These meetings will be short, lasting about one hour and will be held in or adjacent to gardens, where the different methods employed will be demonstrated. The meeting places will be as follows:

RUSSIANS DEVELOP 250 STALKS OF WHEAT FROM SINGLE GRAIN

Moscow, May 8.—Two hundred and fifty stalks of wheat from a single grain—this is said to be the most recent achievement of Soviet scientists who have been experimenting for years in an effort to increase food production.

This "super-wheat" is expected to protect Soviet Russia from the lean years it is facing.

Since the famine of 1920-21, scientists have been making microscopic examinations of various Russian soils. The "super-wheat", they say, will grow where no wheat grew before. While the giant stalks cover more territory than the former one stalk from a single grain, they give from 10 to 15 times more wheat per acre.

The increased wheat production is said to result from "maintenance of the life substance" of the soil by cultivating and feeding the bacteria it contains. This is done by fertilizing it with grass or hay, and, where necessary, certain minerals. Instead of burning wheat straw, it is plowed under.

LAIR STORE NEWS

"That Interesting Store"

HOUSE FURNISHINGS

Our 34 Year in S. E. Mo.

Approximately 16,000 people through our store in one day is an experience we had Saturday for the first time. The International Shoe Exhibit brought them of course, but many lingered to view our unusual furniture display. 'Twas a wonderful crowd, representing all parts of Southeast Missouri and made very plain the scope to which Sikeston trade territory may be extended if merchants carry well chosen stocks, offer superior service and are "on their toes" every minute. Our thanks go to those 16,000 people for calling. Come again, please—and again. In the meantime, let us supply your furniture needs.

Messrs. Lammert and Whyte for the Lammert Furniture Company, Stroude for Moores Stoves, Baker for Florence Oil Ranges, Gustine for Sellers Kitchen Cabinets and Schmidt for Majestic Products, all did fine work demonstrating their wonderful and varied products to thousands who filed by Saturday. A number of sales were reported along with the names of hundreds who expect to buy later. These gentlemen were all agreed that the show was a grand success, both as to size of crowd and interest in merchandise shown. They were thoroughly impressed with Sikeston as a live little city.

New merchandise is arriving almost daily which will certainly be interesting to house-cleaning shoppers. Recent shipments include felt base rugs and linoleum, the latter 12 ft. wide, porch gliders and rockers, Talisman Exclusive Axminster rugs and a number of bedroom suites in Modernistic design.

By the way, ladies who keep up with the trend in bedroom furniture are captivated by the beauty, cleverness and common sense lines of these new Modernistic ensembles. According to leading designers, the new ideas are going strong and have come to stay. Simple, but elegant, they cost but little more than the big "flashes" of other days.

A further word about Talisman Rugs. They are copies of expensive oriental patterns, each design having a history set out on the tag. All are woven with colors through to back. There are many other attractive features and with it all prices are extremely modest—ranging from $30 to $45.00. Pay by week or month if you desire.

Adopting the set phrase, it can hardly be said that Mr. Hitler replied in a few well-chosen words, since the inferiority complex seems likely to be replaced by some other, quite as disastrous to German welfare. The government of old Russia was obsessed by a complex, the Soviet rule is under the thrall of another, and Japan, the current nuisance, has her own particular mental distortion. It is well enough for Germany to lay plans for settling down to business, and in that she will have the sympathy of the world, but a reference to complexes is likely to recall, with corresponding uneasiness, that the World War grew out of a number of incompatible national complexes.

RUSTIC HUMOR

An Oklahoma tenant farmer received the following letter from a Texas friend the other day: "Well, since I sold the little farm in Arkansas, I have prospered. You know we always lived in the one-room shack there, but I came over to East Texas and bought a farm, and pretty soon leased it to an oil company. I was lucky. They hit a big well on the place and now I have a swell house in town. It has six rooms. There is one room that we do nothing but eat in. There is one that we just sit in, two rooms that we don't do anything but sleep in, one room that we don't do anything but cook in, and there is one that is all white and has a place that you can wash all over, and over in the corner there is a place where you can wash your feet in. When we moved in, there were two lids on this, but we have taken them off. We are using one of them for a dough board, and we have framed grandpa's picture with the other.

PAY BACK TAXES NOW AND SAVE PENALTY

State Auditor Forrest Smith is this week urging Missouri taxpayers to take advantage of the recently enacted law by which accrued penalties on back taxes may be remitted. "This law, if taken advantage of," says Auditor Smith, in a statement to The Standard, "means a tremendous saving to the taxpayer who has been forced into arrears during the past few years. Many of them are unable to meet the terrific cost accruing through assessed penalties, interest and costs under the old law. "It is now possible, by paying the original amount assessed, if paid not later than June 30th, 1933, to eliminate all such costs, thereby saving from 40 to 75 per cent of the amount due, depending upon the length of time they are in arrears."

Smith calls attention to the provisions of the new law, whereby if back taxes on real estate or personal property are paid by June 30, the entire amount added to the original tax by reason of costs, interest and penalties will be remitted in full. If paid between June 30 and August 31, 75 per cent will be remitted, and between August 31 and October 31, 50 per cent will be remitted. If paid between December 31, 1933, only 25 per cent of the accrued costs will be remitted. "It should be definitely understood," says the Auditor, "that this law is in the form of a conditional cancellation and will not be effective after January 1, 1934. If, at the end of that time, back taxes have not been paid, the original costs, interests and penalties again become effective from the time the tax was due. The greatest saving

CHARLESTON LOSES GAME TO KENNETT

Charleston, May 7.—In a game that was played mostly in the rain and which lasted three hours, the Charleston Cardinals lost a closely played game to the Kennett Indians by a score of 10-8. In the last half of the fifth, the game was stopped by a downpour of rain and hail.

The Kennett Club garnered a total of 14 hits off the offerings of Ault and May, while the bats of Charleston could only hit safely 9 times. Totals for Kennett are 10 runs, 14 hits and 1 error; for Charleston, 8 runs, 9 hits and 8 errors. Eubanks, a left-hander, struck out 16 Charleston batters, while Ault could only whiff 5 and May 3.

EBERT CALF SHOW IN CAPE GIRARDEAU

The Ebert Auction Company, Inc., of Cape Girardeau, is sponsoring a Boys' and Girls' Calf Show, to be held October 25 to 30 inclusive. The show is to be for fat steer calves between the age of 9 months and 18 months, and to be owned and exhibited by boy or girl from 10 to 20 years of age, inclusive. The show is to be held at the new live stock pavilion, and will be in connection with a large Farm Machinery and Equipment Display. Members of the National Farm Equipment Manufacturers will participate, and many thousands of farmers and live stock men from all over Southeast Missouri are expected to attend the exhibit. The Association's Slogan is: "Good Equipment Makes a Good Farmer Better", and they welcome the opportunity to show "Good Equipment".

The following premium list has been arranged, and will be officially issued about the 10th of June, with all rules and regulations. In the meantime, those interested in fitting a calf for the show, may secure any information they may desire by writing the above auction company. Boys and girls do not have to belong to any calf club to participate in the show. It is an individual show, and anyone who desires, may enter their calf, if they abide by the rules governing the show.

Washington Comment

The Treasury has eased off somewhat in its demands regarding the use of gold. It appears that there is considerable doubt as to the constitutionality of the requirement that private stocks of that metal be turned in through the banks and for the time being the matter will be permitted to rest. The small man parted with his five dollar gold piece promptly, but the big man took his time. The result is that the mass of gold will remain in the hands that have held it heretofore. The incident is instructive in several ways. It teaches that persons of large affairs consult their own welfare and let the country go hang. It reminds us, also, that when any plan touches the vested and powerful interests, no time will be lost in raising questions as to its legality.

The White House conferences continue. Mr. McDonald has had his chat with President Roosevelt, and has departed. Other guests will be hailed at their coming, and wished a pleasant voyage at their going, but the public will learn few of the details of what actually took place. Nor is it necessary or desirable that the public be taken into confidence. Macaulay, who knew something about history, said that men are never so likely to settle a question rightly as when they discuss it freely. Freedom of discussion would not have been attained in the face of publicity. Even diplomats are entitled, now and then, to have an hour of relief from the back-seat driver.

While the United States is trying to figure out its system whereby its railroads will be kept solvent and operating, the Japs and Chinese are busy blowing railroads to pieces. When the Orientals have tired of the war game, Uncle Sam probably will be given the opportunity to add to his own burdens by supplying the capital necessary to put the Manchurian railways again in running order.

The action of a hundred Iowa farmers, when they carried off an offending magistrate, greased his face, and took off his trousers, suggests that there are local diseases in which original and local remedies are indicated, and it is not well for the outsider to be too strong in his condemnation. Up on the other hand, the removal of the jurist's breeches did not help matters, and may come under the head of cruel and unusual punishments, which are forbidden by the constitution. Speaking of the handling of clothing as a symbol of conduct, maybe it would have been well if the farmers had been admonished by a cooler head to keep their pants on.

Out in the Pacific Ocean, a naval vessel has found a place about 35,000 feet deep. Perhaps the incident is an omen that the bottom has been reached, in another sense, on land. The Pacific hole is of some depth. Mount Everest, the highest mountain of the world could be dropped into it, to serve as a foundation for a structure as high as four Washington Monuments and three Eiffel Towers.

placed end to end, and the skipper of the Majestic, the largest steamship afloat, could steer a course over the spot without noticing that anything had been done.

The first of May was, as usual, a turbulent date. In many of the so-called civilized portions of the globe there were stone-throwings, blood-letting, and cries of down with something or someone. Chicago reported five bombings. There was an ambulance of noise on a memorable May Day in the past. On May 1, 1898, Admiral Dewey wiped out the Spanish fleet in Manila Bay. He disposed of the Spaniards easily enough. His task would be more difficult if he were living and called upon to check gangsters, Communists and others who make the first of the present month for annual disorder.

CHAPTER XVII

Before Blondie could answer her father, Larry said quickly: "With me, I'm afraid..." "With you—who are you?" said Pa, turning on him. "My name happens to be Larry Belmont...now there's nothing to be alarmed about...she's been in very good hands...uh...she's been well looked after..." "She's never touched liquor in her life before..." "Well, I'm sorry...it was my fault. But there's nothing to worry about, I assure you..." "I wouldn't be so sure with a man like you..." "Well, that's unkind...you can think what you like. Now you know, as a man of the world, if there had been anything I wouldn't be up here arguing about it—I'd have just parked her and left her...you know..." and Larry laughed understandingly at the father. "It's only because..." "You're intoxicated..." Pa was glaring fiercely. "And you're..." said Larry violently. Then shrugging his shoulders he said quietly, "Oh, well..." "Please, Pa!" said Blondie, suddenly realizing this was going too far. "What's the matter with you?" "Goodbye, Blondie...I'm very sorry," and Larry started down the stairs. "Larry!" Blondie called, and he stopped suddenly, "don't be cross." "Here..." said her father, quickly taking hold of her arm, "come in here..." and he pulled her roughly. "Don't do that," he commanded Larry. Pa turned on him again. "Get out!" he ordered. Blondie shook herself free, and suddenly caught Larry around the neck as he stood at the top of the stairs. "I'm going to call you up," she said seriously, as she looked deep into his eyes. "Do," said Larry affectionately, "and explain to all of them how good we've been." Then giving her a little intimate pat on the cheek, "God bless good night." He turned suddenly and ran down the stairs.

"That man is drunk and so are you," Pa thundered.

Blondie watched him longingly as he went through the door and out of sight to the street. Then she turned and slowly walked past her father and into the flat. Her father followed her closely into the living room. As Blondie started for her own room, he said: "Come here. I want to talk to you." "Not now. I've heard enough. I'm going to bed." "Bed? You're due at the store in three hours," Blondie turned on him suddenly. "The store? Don't be silly no more store. I'm in the Follies. I've seen Mr. Ziggle." "You're in the Follies?" Pa echoed incredulously. "Then seeing the look of triumph on her face, 'Is that where you've been?'" "Yes, back of the stage, the dressing rooms, a speakeasy and that Lurline...Sav, is that a palce she lives in. Oh, Pa listen..." and Blondie took off her hat and coat. "Look at that...and get this fur piece," she proudly displaying the coat. She laid them carefully down on the box couch. "Let me tell you about Lurline — you wouldn't have believed it—" Wild-eyed, Blondie watched her father step to the couch, and pick up the hat and coat. "Here, Pa, what are you doing?" Blondie cried. "With a wild swing Pa contemptuously threw them across the room. They landed in a heap in the corner. Blondie dashed after them. Her father was trying desperately to keep some semblance of self-control. "Please, Pa, don't start in on me, or I'll get sore...you've never seen me sore." Blondie was fighting hard to keep back the tears, as she again started for her room. "I want to talk to you," said her father, barring her way. "Not now, Pa...you've spoiled a great day." "A night you mean?" Pa said sarcastically. "Then in a sterner voice: 'Did he get fresh?'" "What do you mean?" "Just what I said." "Anyone would think I'd committed a crime...that I'd gone wrong or something." "And did you?" Pa hurled the accusation with quiet contempt. "Pa!" Blondie looked at her father, scarcely believing that she had heard him rightly. "Did you?" Pa insisted. "Pa!" Blondie's voice was pleading. "That man was drunk...and so are you...do you know what danger is?" "With him?" Blondie was desperate now. Her voice was choking. Her eyes filled with tears. "With him!" Pa reiterated. "He's a gentleman," Blondie said, trying to control herself. "He's a drunken, no-good upstart. I know men and you're not going to see him again—never. Do you understand?" Pa was frowning now, his hands clinched defiantly. Blondie was almost at the breaking point. "No!" commanded her father. Blondie looked at him defiantly. "I'm going away—I'm going to do what I like and I'm going in the street. I'm going to live as I want—and I'm going now!" Blondie made a dash for the door. "No!" demanded her father, grabbing her arm. "Let me go," she cried, pulling away, and ran into the hallway. "Blondie!" Blondie did not hear her father call as she ran down the stairs, and into the street. "Blondie!" Pa called again, as he hurried down after his fleeing daughter. Breathless and hatless, he ran out only to see Blondie running madly through the deserted street. Pa watched in pathetic silence as his daughter disappeared from view. For some time after Blondie had gone, Pa stood looking with tear dimmed eyes at the corner where he had last seen her. Then slowly he mounted the stairs, pausing at the top to catch his breath and mop the perspiration from his forehead. Then squaring his shoulders and lifting his head high, he strode into the flat. As her father entered the flat Blondie was several blocks away, slowed down now to a walk and quite out of breath. She pulled on the hat, slipped into the coat and looked anxiously up and down the street. In the next block she sighted a taxi and hailed the driver to the curb. As she got into the cab she said to the driver, "Park Avenue—I don't know the number but I'll show you the place."

LOCAL AND PERSONAL FROM MATTHEWS

(Mrs. W. H. Deane)

Mrs. Charles Lumsden proved to be a very charming hostess last Thursday evening, when she entertained at dinner the teachers of her son, Nelson, in honor of Miss Kanoy. Covers were laid for fourteen and the table was lovely with spring flowers and candles to harmonize. A delicious two course dinner was served. Card games were enjoyed after the dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Loy Roberts of Essex spent Sunday with the former's mother, Mrs. George Ellersbrooks.

Miss Elsie Holt of St. Louis spent the week-end here with relatives.

County Supt. Milus R. Davis of Canolau was in Matthews Monday on business.

Misses Frankie Deane and Helen Deane went to Sikeston Monday evening on business.

A large number from here attended the street dance in Sikeston Saturday evening.

A group of friends from Sikeston, East Prairie and Matthews honored Miss Kanoy Saturday evening with a picnic supper, on the river, near New Madrid.

School Notes

The baccalaureate sermon was delivered Sunday evening at the Methodist church by Rev. Leslie Garrison of Sikeston.

Class Day was held Tuesday afternoon.

Commencement exercises were held Wednesday evening. The speaker for the evening was Prof. A. C. Magill, of the State Teachers' College of Cape Girardeau.

The Seniors are leaving some beautiful pictures for the class rooms and also a large picture of the graduating class.

Both the grade and high schools enjoyed a picnic Thursday.

The examinations at the high school were given Tuesday and Wednesday, 9th and 10th. At the grade school Tuesday.

We are sorry to lose the Senior class, yet we are glad they have accomplished their first step to higher ideals. We wish them the best of success in the future.

THE MASTERPIECE OF TIRE CONSTRUCTION

Used almost exclusively by master race drivers — they will not take chances or risk their lives on ordinary tires. Road speeds of today are the racing speeds of yesterday. You should take no chances but profit by the knowledge and experience of race drivers who know tires. Equip your car all around with Firestone High Speed Tires which hold all world records on road and track for safety, speed, mileage and endurance.

Firestone High Speed Tires are made by master tire builders, of the finest materials, with the Extra Features of Gum-Dipping and Two Extra Gum-Dipped Cord Plies under the Scientifically Designed Tread.

Protect your life and the lives of your family by trading in your old, smooth, thin, worn, dangerous tires. We will give you a liberal allowance to apply on a set of Firestone High Speed Tires — the safest tires in the world.

REMEMBER — your brakes can stop your wheels, but your tires must stop your car!

Tuesday morning for Granville Hubler of this city, who held up nine different people Friday night between 12 and 1:00 o'clock. Among some of them were the Lee Plant here, taking a pistol, from Clay Dawson, Tom Nicholson, negro, taking $4; Margaret Dotson, Guy Graper and Laura Glover, $1 and a half; Cub Behr, 75 cents; Bobbie Haynes, 55 cents and two people who got off the bus near Hummel's Drug Store, causing them to throw their baggage and run. Hubler had formerly been in the penitentiary and he is now bound over to Circuit Court, unable to make bond and he has four different charges against him.

UTILITY SUES MURPHYSBORO FOR $26,000 ON CITY BILL

Murphysboro, Ill., May 9.—A suit was filed in Circuit Court by District Superintendent D. H. Sims for the Western United Gas & Electric Co. against the City of Murphysboro for $26,781.31. The mandamus also asks terminating of a contract by which the city agree to pay the company $1,000 in November, 1932, and $2500 a year thereafter, to retire its obligations.

City Attorney Fletcher Lewis commented "The company is demanding in effect that Murphysboro pay over practically every cent of its visible tax income for this year for debts, and is attempting to make void its contract with the city in which terms of pay on its utility indebtedness were fixed. That Murphysboro did not meet the initial pay installment of this contract was because Murphysboro did not have available the funds required. If this mandamus prevails, then I doubt if Murphysboro will have left any funds for the meeting of its salary roll for police, firemen and street workers. One thing I know, it means that Murphysboro must set up her own electric plant. Only yesterday, the Mayor, members of the City Council, the City Treasurer, the City Clerk and myself went to Jackson, Sikeston and Poplar Bluff, Mo., for a study of municipally owned utilities."

Leonard McMullin of Sikeston is not only the county's first flying judge but he now takes on the title of marryin' judge. So far as we can remember no other county official in this capacity has ever said a marriage ceremony. We might be wrong on this. Green Herdy and Mrs. Laura Nash, negroes, of Sikeston, were united in marriage by Judge McMullin.—Benton Democrat.

C. E. Felker, county treasurer, this week finished paying up the bonds on our court house, having paid bonds Nos. 75, 76, 77, 78, 79 and 80 of $500 each which were dated May 1, 1913, being due May 1st, 1933, and signed by James McPhetters, county clerk, and T. F. Frazer, presiding judge. This now makes our court house all paid for.—Benton Democrat.

PHILLIPS HOME AND COMMUNITY CLUB ENTERTAIN

New Madrid, May 8.—The Phillips Home and Community Club entertained the families of its members Saturday evening, April 29 at Phillips School Building, with a supper and a program which everyone seemed to enjoy. The program consisted of a reading by Mrs. Sallye Littell and Miss Agnes Littell, and vocal and instrumental selections by Dorothy Woods, Leonard Martin, Ed Wiley and Ed Waits. About forty people were present at this entertainment.

THINKS HE HAS FOUND TOMB OF LAST AZTEC EMPEROR

New York, May 10.—Count Byron Khun de Prorok thinks his archeological expedition into the Mayan jungle of Mexico has discovered the tomb of Gautemec, nephew of Montezuma and last of the Aztec emperors.

The French explorer said his party would return to the jungle next October to dig into the supposed tomb in the State of Tabasco, 1200 miles south of Mexico City. In this locality, legend and history agree, Gautemec died while a hostage in the camp of Cortez, the Spanish conqueror.

The Mississippi River's widest point, is not, as may seem reasonable, near the mouth, it is, in fact, closer to Chicago than it is to New Orleans. The widest part of the river, at bankful stage, is seventy-seven miles below Cairo, Ill., where it measures 14,420 feet from bank to bank—or nearly three miles, according to a survey made by the Mississippi River Commission.
